Making Feeding Your Young Ones Easier

Memudahkan Pemberian Makanan Si Manja

DR TEE E SIONG, KMN
President / Presiden
Nutrition Society of Malaysia
Persatuan Pemakanan Malaysia

The first few years of life mark a stage of rapid growth and development; that is why babies, toddlers and preschoolers have greater nutritional needs. Both the quantity and quality of nutrition are crucial in determining how well young children grow and develop.

As a parent, you must attempt to provide adequately nutritious meals for your little ones during this critical phase of life. Even if you are not able to cook the meals yourself, do ensure someone in the family, be it your in-laws or the house helper, knows how to prepare nutritionally-sound meals for your children.

This cookbook has been published to guide parents or child caretakers to prepare simple yet nutritious meals for young children. This unique cookbook contains a wide range of local recipes developed by nutrition experts to suit the needs and tastes of young children. There are also relevant nutrition information and practical tips on healthy eating and cooking methods.

I strongly encourage parents, especially mums, to try out the recipes in this book. Preparing nutritious meals for your children, no matter what age they are, need not be a daunting task. Simple efforts in the kitchen can go a long way to optimise your child's growth.

Dalam tahun-tahun awal si manja, berlaku banyak pertumbuhan dan perkembangan yang pesat. Lantaran itu, bayi, anak kecil dan kanak-kanak yang bakal memasuki alam persekolahan memerlukan makanan yang berkhasiat. Kuantiti dan kualiti makanan amat penting untuk memastikan si manja dapat membesar dengan sihat.

Sebagai ibu bapa, anda mesti cuba menyediakan makanan yang cukup berkhasiat untuk anak-anak anda sepanjang fasa pertumbuhan yang sangat penting ini. Jika anda tidak dapat memasak sendiri sajian makanan untuk anak-anak, pastikan anggota keluarga yang lain atau pembantu rumah tahu bagaimana untuk memasak makanan yang berkhasiat untuk anak-anak anda.

Buku masakan ini telah diterbitkan sebagai panduan untuk ibu bapa atau penjaga kanak-kanak menyediakan sajian makanan yang mudah dan berkhasiat untuk anak-anak kecil. Buku masakan yang unik ini mengandungi pelbagai pilihan resipi masakan tempatan yang dihasilkan oleh pakar pemakanan yang bersesuaian dengan keperluan dan cita rasa anak-anak kecil. Buku ini juga mempunyai maklumat berkaitan pemakanan, cara memasak dan petua yang boleh anda amalkan untuk memupuk tabiat makan yang sihat.

Saya sangat menggalakkan semua, terutama sekali ibu-ibu, untuk mencuba resipi yang terkandung dalam buku ini. Tanggungjawab untuk menyediakan sajian yang berkhasiat untuk anak-anak memang besar, tetapi tidak semestinya sukar. Usaha-usaha yang kecil di dapur boleh menjamin pertumbuhan yang optimum untuk anak anda.

Foods for Optimal Growth

Children of different ages need different amount of energy and nutrients to support their physical growth and mental development. Different nutrients have different functions in supporting growth, and no single food alone can provide all the nutrients your child needs. Therefore, provide him a variety of foods in moderate amounts by combining and balancing the following 5 main food groups everyday.

Grains and their products

- A great source of energy, dietary fibre, vitamins and minerals. Dietary fibre helps regulate bowel movement and promote good gut health.
- Sources: Rice, wheat, oats, barley and their products such as noodles, bread, breakfast cereals and biscuits.
- Tips: Go for wholegrain products (e.g. wholemeal bread, brown rice) as they contain higher fibre content and more vitamins and minerals than the processed ones (e.g. white bread, polished rice).

Tip
Your growing child needs energy-dense, nutrient-rich foods that also contain moderate amounts of fibre.

Vegetables

- Wonderful sources of fibre, phytochemicals, vitamins and minerals.
- Sources: Leafy green vegetables (e.g. spinach), root vegetables (e.g. carrot), fruit vegetables (e.g. tomato), cruciferous vegetables (e.g. cabbage), and legume vegetables (e.g. long beans).
- Tips: Stir-frying vegetables with a small amount of oil not only makes the dish tasty, but also minimises nutrient loss.

Fruits

- Great sources of vitamins and phytochemicals to maintain overall health.
- Sources: Papaya, guava, banana, watermelon, apple, orange, and pear.
- Tips: Different fruits contain different nutrients, so encourage your child to eat a rainbow range of fruits daily.

Fish, meat, poultry, eggs and legumes

- Rich in protein, the body's building block that build as well as repair muscles and tissues.
- Sources: Fish, chicken, duck, beef, mutton, lamb, pork, egg, various beans and legumes and their products such as tofu, tauakua, fu-chok.
- Tips: Your child's protein requirement can be best met from a combination of animal (e.g. fish, meat, poultry, egg) and plant proteins (e.g. beans, peas).

Milk and dairy products

- Important sources of protein and calcium. Calcium helps build strong bones and teeth in children.
- Sources: Milk, cheese and yoghurt.
- Tips: Sweetened condensed milk is not considered a dairy product and has low nutritional value. If you want to add milk to your child's breakfast cereal or malt drink, use plain milk or breast milk.

Oils and fats

Oils and fats are not considered to belong to the main food groups, but they do play important roles. Fats and oils from food provide energy, fat-soluble vitamins and essential fatty acids. Essential fatty acids are needed for proper growth, especially for the development of the brain and eyes in young children. Too much of fat or no fat at all is not healthy for growing kids. Therefore, use fats and oils sensibly when cooking for your child and family.

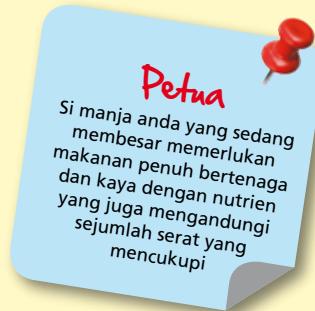

Now you know what to feed your child, knowing how to feed and how much to feed is equally important. You can refer to the individual chapters according to age group to learn more.

Makanan untuk Pertumbuhan Optimum

Kanak-kanak yang berlainan usia memerlukan jumlah tenaga dan nutrien yang berbeza untuk menyokong pertumbuhan fizikal dan perkembangan mental mereka. Nutrien berlainan mempunyai fungsi yang berbeza untuk menyokong pertumbuhan. Tiada satu pun makanan yang dengan sendirinya dapat membekalkan segala nutrien yang diperlukan anak-anak anda. Oleh itu, anda perlu sajikan pelbagai jenis makanan dalam jumlah yang sederhana, dengan menggabungkan dan mengimbangkan makanan daripada 5 kumpulan makanan yang berikut setiap hari.

Bijirin dan produknya

- Sumber tenaga, serat makanan, vitamin dan zat galian. Serat makanan membantu melawaskan perut dan menjamin kesihatan sistem penghadaman.
- Sumber: Beras, gandum, oat, barli dan produknya seperti mi, roti, bijirin sarapan dan biskut.
- Petua: Pilih produk bijirin penuh (seperti roti mil penuh, beras perang) kerana kandungan serat, vitamin dan zat galianya lebih tinggi daripada produk bijirin yang diproses (seperti roti putih, beras putih).

Sayur-sayuran

- Kaya dengan serat, fitokimia, vitamin dan zat galian.
- Sumber: Sayuran berdaun hijau (seperti bayam), sayuran berakar (seperti lobak merah), sayuran berbentuk buah (seperti tomato), sayuran

"cruciferous" (seperti kubis), dan sayuran kekacang (seperti kacang panjang).

- Petua: Sayur-sayuran yang ditumis dengan sedikit minyak bukan sahaja melazatkan makanan, tetapi juga mengurangkan kehilangan nutrien.

Buah-buahan

- Kaya dengan vitamin dan fitokimia untuk mengekalkan kesihatan.
- Sumber: Betik, jambu batu, pisang, tembakai, epal, oren, dan pear.
- Petua: Buah-buahan yang berlainan warna mengandungi nutrien yang berbeza. Jadi, galakkan si manja anda makan buah-buahan beraneka warna setiap hari.

Ikan, daging, ayam, telur dan kekacang

- Kaya dengan protein, yang membantu membina dan juga membaiki otot dan tisu.
- Sumber: Ikan, ayam, itik, daging lembu dan kambing, telur, pelbagai jenis kacang dan kekacang dan produknya seperti tauhu, taukuah, fucuk.

- Petua: Kombinasi protein haiwan (seperti ikan, daging, ayam, itik dan telur) dan tumbuhan (seperti kekacang, kacang pis) dapat membekalkan protein yang diperlukan oleh anak-anak anda.

Susu dan produk tenusu

- Sumber penting protein dan kalsium. Kalsium membantu membina tulang dan gigi yang kuat.
- Sumber: Susu, keju dan yogurt.
- Petua: Susu pekat manis tidak dianggap sebagai produk tenusu dan nilai pemakanannya juga rendah. Jika anda mahu menambahkan susu ke dalam bijirin sarapan atau minuman malt si manja, gunakan susu biasa atau susu ibu.

Mingak dan lemak

Minyak dan lemak tidak dianggap tergolong dalam kumpulan makanan utama, tetapi tetap memainkan peranan penting. Lemak dan minyak daripada makanan membekalkan tenaga, vitamin larut lemak dan asid lemak perlu. Asid lemak perlu adalah penting untuk tumbesaran yang sihat, terutama sekali untuk perkembangan otak kanak-kanak kecil dan juga untuk penglihatan mata mereka. Lemak berlebihan atau tiada lemak langsung boleh menjelaskan kesihatan kanak-kanak yang sedang membesar. Oleh itu, gunakan lemak dan minyak dengan sewajarnya apabila memasak makanan untuk anak-anak dan keluarga anda.

Jadi, sekarang anda sudah ketahui apa yang patut diberikan kepada anak-anak anda tetapi cara dan jumlah yang perlu diberikan kepada mereka harus dititik beratkan juga. Untuk ini, anda boleh merujuk kepada bab tertentu berdasarkan kumpulan umur.

SAFE HANDLING OF SHELL GAS (LPG)

HANDLING AND STORAGE

Buy your Shell GAS only from Shell GAS authorised dealers.

Keep gas cylinders upright.
If stored on its side, liquid instead of vapour may escape, creating a more hazardous situation.

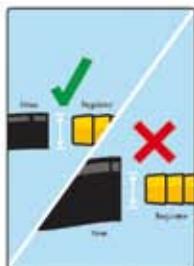

Place gas cylinder upright in well ventilated area, away from heat and sources of ignition.
Do not place gas cylinder near smoking area or open burning area.

Do not change gas cylinders near a source of ignition. A naked flame or a lighted cigarette could ignite any gas that is released.

INSTALLATION

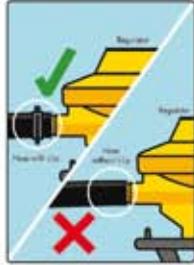

Always check that the gas hose size and diameter are correct and can be fitted properly for the connection to gas regulator and gas appliances.

Do not use a hose that does not correctly fit the regulator.

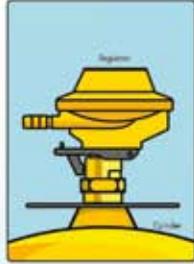

Use the correct hose (BS 3212 or MS 773) and check its condition regularly.

Replace any damaged or worn hose with a new hose.

Use hoses designed for use with LPG with factory-crimped end connections.

Never use a hose without a clip that is just pushed over the nozzle of the regulator or the appliance.

Use the correct regulator and check its condition regularly.

Use hose and regulators that are distributed by authorised Shell GAS distributors.

USAGE

Turn on the gas regulator/valve. Light the appliance; light the match first if your gas appliance does not have automatic ignition or pilot flame.

Use Shell GAS cylinders in a well ventilated room; do not use in cellars or basements.

Gas consumes oxygen when it burns and so it must be used in a well ventilated area to ensure that a safe atmosphere is maintained.

Do not place hot items on the cylinder. They may damage either the regulator or hose.

Do not leave cooking unattended under any circumstances.

If a cooking pot boils over it can put out the flame and may allow a gas build-up.

Turn off the cylinder valve/gas regulator and gas appliance after use.

If gas will not be used for a prolonged period, remove the gas regulator from the cylinder and replace with the red safety cap (on the cylinder).

Check for gas leaks from time to time using soapy water.

NEVER use a naked flame. Shell GAS has a distinctive smell that indicates the presence of a gas leak. Soapy water will bubble when applied to the area or connection with gas leak.

SAFE HANDLING OF SHELL GAS (LPG)

WHAT TO DO IF THERE IS SUSPECTED/ACTUAL GAS LEAKAGE

An odorant (ethyl mercaptan) is added in Shell GAS as a stench agent to assist leak detection.

In the event of gas leakage or suspected leakage:-
1) Extinguish all naked flames and ignition sources;
2) Turn off all gas appliances.

DO NOT switch on or off any electrical equipment.

Do not turn on the gas supply until it has been made safe to do so by a competent person.

If the gas leak occurs indoor, open doors and windows to increase ventilation.

If safe to do so, move cylinder outdoors to an open space away from people, buildings, drains and sources of ignition.

Notify your gas supplier or Shell LPG Customer service centre at 1-300-88-5808.

If the gas leaks from the gas cylinder valve, replace with the red safety cap.

WHAT TO DO IF THERE IS FIRE

Call the Fire Emergency Services (999) immediately and inform them LPG cylinders are on the premises.

Turn off the gas supply if it is practicable and safe to do so.

Remove gas cylinder(s) from the vicinity of fire if it is safe to do so.

Do not approach cylinders in the vicinity of fire if it is not safe to do so.

In case of gas fire, stop the source of the gas leakage before extinguishing the fire, if it is safe to do so.

If the leakage cannot be stopped, consider allowing the fire to continue to burn until the source can be isolated.

Do not turn on the gas supply until it has been made safe to do so by a competent person.

WHAT TO DO WITH EMPTY CYLINDERS

Return empty gas cylinder(s) to your Shell GAS supplier.

Do not dispose the gas cylinders in domestic or industrial waste facilities.

Do not cut, pierce or burn cylinders, even after use.

Do not use the cylinders for any purpose other than what it is intended for.

*Your Baby's First Meals
Sajian Pertama Bayi Anda*

World Health Organisation (WHO) recommendations

- All infants should be exclusively breastfed for the first 6 months of life to achieve optimal growth, development and health.
- From 6 months onwards, infants should receive nutritionally adequate and safe complementary foods, while breastfeeding should be continued up to two years of age or beyond.

Saranan Pertubuhan Kesihatan Sedunia (WHO)

- Semua bayi hendaklah diberi susu ibu sepenuhnya selama enam bulan pertama hayat mereka bagi menjamin pertumbuhan, perkembangan dan kesihatan optimum.
- Selepas 6 bulan, bayi perlu diberi makanan pelengkap yang sesuai dengan secukupnya, manakala pemberian susu ibu perlulah diteruskan sehingga bayi mencapai usia dua tahun atau lebih.

Nutritional Needs in the First 2 Years

The first 2 years is when your baby experiences the greatest amount of growth and development. For instance, baby's birth weight generally doubles by 4-5 months, and quadruples by 2 years. Therefore, providing your baby with adequate and appropriate nutrition during this period is vital to ensure your baby's growth and development are optimised.

Breast Milk Is the Best Food for Babies

Breastfeeding your baby is the first vital step to ensuring your baby's health. Breast milk contains the right types of nutrients and in ideal amounts that your baby needs. The nutrients from breast milk are easily digested and absorbed by your baby's body. Breast milk also contains important immunological compounds that help to protect baby against a variety of infections, including diarrhoea.

How much milk does your baby needs?

	Number of feedings per day	Amount of milk at each feeding
0-1 month	8	60 ml
1-2 months	7	90 ml
2-4 months	6	120 ml
4-6 months	6	150 ml

Complementary Feeding

As your baby grows and becomes more active, his energy and nutritional needs increase, too. Breast milk alone can no longer meet your baby's needs when he is 6 months old. By then, your baby needs additional foods (complementary feeding) along with breast milk to help fulfil his requirement for energy and other nutrients (e.g. iron, zinc and vitamin A).

Complementary foods provide one-third (32%) of the daily energy needs of a baby when he is 6-8 months and increases to almost half (44%) when he is 9-12 months. This further increases to over 60% when he is over a year old. The contribution of milk to his daily energy needs declines as he grows older.

Energy

- To maintain baby's body function and allow him to stay active all day long.
- Source: Cereals, such as rice, wheat and tubers (potatoes and sweet potatoes).

Iron

- A component of haemoglobin in red blood cells, which carry oxygen to all parts of the body.
- Source: Liver, meat, fortified infant cereals.

Zinc

- Essential for growth and proper functioning of the immune system.
- Source: Liver, meat, poultry, fish, egg yolk.

Vitamin A

- Aids in maintaining the health of the skin and mucous membrane, essential for the functioning of the eye.
- Source: Breast milk, liver, egg yolk, orange-coloured fruits and vegetables (e.g. mango, carrot, pumpkin), dark-green vegetables (e.g. spinach, kangkung, broccoli).

Keperluan Pemakanan Bayi untuk 2 Tahun Pertama

Bayi anda melalui fasa pertumbuhan dan perkembangan paling pesat dalam dua tahun pertama hayatnya. Sebagai contoh, berat bayi umumnya berganda apabila mencapai usia 4-5 bulan, dan naik empat kali ganda apabila mencecah 2 tahun. Oleh itu, anda hendaklah memastikan si manja mendapat makanan berkhasiat yang secukupnya sepanjang tempoh ini bagi menjamin pertumbuhan dan perkembangan optimum.

Susu Ibu Adalah Makanan Terbaik untuk Bayi

Memberi susu ibu adalah langkah pertama yang sangat penting untuk memastikan kesihatan bayi anda. Susu ibu bukan sahaja mengandungi segala nutrien, tetapi juga menepati jumlah yang diperlukan oleh si manja. Nutrien daripada susu ibu mudah dihadamkan dan diserap oleh badan bayi. Susu ibu juga mengandungi sebatian imunologi yang penting untuk membantu melindungi bayi daripada pelbagai jangkitan, termasuk cirit-birit.

Berapa banyak susu yang bayi anda perlukan?

	Bilangan penyusuan sehari	Jumlah susu setiap kali penyusuan
0-1 bulan	8	60 ml
1-2 bulan	7	90 ml
2-4 bulan	6	120 ml
4-6 bulan	6	150 ml

Makanan Pelengkap

Apabila bayi anda bertambah besar dan menjadi lebih aktif, keperluan tenaga dan pemakanannya juga bertambah. Susu ibu sahaja tidak lagi dapat memenuhi keperluannya apabila si manja mencapai usia 6 bulan. Pada usia ini, bayi anda memerlukan makanan tambahan (makanan pelengkap) selain daripada susu ibu untuk membantu membekalkan tenaga dan nutrien lain yang diperlukan seperti zat besi, zink dan vitamin A.

Makanan pelengkap membekalkan satu pertiga (32%) daripada tenaga yang diperlukan oleh bayi anda apabila mencapai usia 6-8 bulan dan meningkat hingga hampir separuh (44%) apabila usianya 9-12 bulan. Keperluan ini meningkat lagi kepada lebih 60% apabila bayi anda berusia lebih satu tahun. Pada masa yang sama, sumbangan tenaga daripada susu yang diberikan setiap hari berkurangan apabila bayi anda semakin membesar.

Tenaga

- Untuk mengekalkan fungsi badan dan membolehkan si manja terus aktif sepanjang hari.
- Sumber: Bijirin, seperti beras, gandum dan ubi (seperti kentang dan keledek).

Zat Besi

- Komponen hemoglobin dalam sel darah merah yang membawa oksigen ke semua bahagian badan.
- Sumber: Hati, daging, bijirin bayi yang diperkaya.

Zink

- Penting untuk tumbesaran dan fungsi sistem imun.
- Sumber: Hati, daging, ayam, itik, ikan, kuning telur.

Vitamin A

- Membantu mengekalkan kesihatan kulit dan selaput lendir, penting untuk fungsi mata.
- Sumber: Susu ibu, hati, kuning telur, buah-buahan dan sayuran warna oren (seperti mangga, lobak merah, labu), sayuran warna hijau tua (seperti bayam, kangkung, brokoli).

Complementary Feeding: When to Start?

Complementary feeding usually begins at 6 months, when baby's digestive system is mature enough to digest different types of semi-solid and solid foods. There are also signs to indicate that baby is now ready to receive complementary foods (i.e. foods other than breast milk). You may notice that baby:

- Can sit with little or no support, and is able to control his head.
- Gets hungry fast, i.e. soon after breastfeeds or after frequent breastfeeds.
- Can control his tongue better.
- Starts to make chewing motions or up-down 'munching' movements.
- Begins to develop teeth.
- Likes to put things into his mouth.
- Shows interest in the food you are eating, e.g. trying to grab your food, opening his mouth.

How to Feed?

Knowing how to begin complementary feeding is important. Successful feeding not only optimises your child's nutritional intake, but also helps to shape good eating habits from a young age.

How frequent?

- 6-8 months: 2-3 main meals a day and make sure breast milk is provided 5-6 times a day. Snacks are generally not required, but may be given if tolerated by baby
- 9-11 months: 3-4 main meals a day + 1-2 nutritious snacks
- 1-2 years: 4-5 main meals a day + 1-2 nutritious snacks

Feeding DO's

- ✓ Introduce only one new food at a time. For example, start with blended rice porridge. Once baby gets used to it, introduce second type of food from another food group.
- ✓ Apply the 4-day rule. Wait for 4 days after introducing a new type of food; this will help determine if your baby likes the food and allow him to get used to it. This will also help to detect signs of food allergy baby might have.
- ✓ Start with a small amount. Increase the amount gradually as baby gets older.
- ✓ Once baby has been introduced to a variety of foods, start serving a combination of foods in a single meal, e.g. serving rice porridge with minced meat and pureed vegetable.

- ✓ Make sure the food flavour and texture are right according to baby's stage of development.
- ✓ Feed as soon as baby gets hungry before baby gets upset and loses appetite.
- ✓ Depending on baby's ability, give foods that baby can pick up, and give water in a cup that he can hold.
- ✓ Avoid having distractions, such as TV and toys, during feeding so that baby can fully focus and enjoy his meal.
- ✓ Have meals together with baby. You can actively encourage baby to eat or even self-feed.

Feeding DON'TS

- ✗ Mix different types of food in one meal when first started.
- ✗ Give foods that baby can choke on, such as nuts or seeds.
- ✗ Force-feed or overfeed. Stop feeding when baby turns away or shows disinterest; he may be feeling full already.

Makanan Pelengkap: Bila untuk Memulakan?

Pemberian makanan pelengkap biasanya boleh dimulakan apabila bayi anda berusia 6 bulan, kerana pada usia ini sistem penghadamannya sudah cukup matang untuk menghadamkan makanan pepejal dan separa pepejal yang berlainan jenis. Si manja juga akan menunjukkan tanda kesediaan untuk menerima makanan pelengkap (iaitu makanan selain susu ibu). Anda akan mendapati si manja:

- Boleh duduk dengan sedikit sokongan atau tanpa sokongan, dan dapat mengawal kepalanya.
- Cepat lapar, meminta susu walaupun selepas diberikan susu ibu atau kerap menyusu.
- Boleh mengawal lidahnya dengan lebih baik.
- Mula mengunyah atau menggerakkan mulutnya ke atas ke bawah seperti mengunyah.
- Gemar memasukkan benda ke dalam mulutnya.
- Menunjukkan minat kepada makanan yang anda makan, seperti cuba merampas makanan, membuka mulutnya.

Bagaimana untuk Memberi Si Manja Makan?

Mengetahui cara untuk memulakan pemberian makanan pelengkap adalah penting, kerana anda bukan sahaja dapat memastikan si manja mendapat segala nutrien yang diperlukan, tetapi juga membantu memupuk tabiat makan yang baik sejak dari kecil.

Sekerap mana anda patut memberi makanan pelengkap?

- 6-8 bulan: makanan utama 2-3 kali sehari dan pastikan susu ibu diberi 5-6 kali sehari. Makanan snek umumnya tidak perlu diberikan, tetapi boleh diberi jika dapat diterima oleh bayi
- 9-11 bulan: makanan utama 3-4 kali sehari + 1-2 snek berkhasiat
- 1-2 tahun: makanan utama 4-5 kali sehari + 1-2 snek berkhasiat

Apa Yang BOLEH Anda Lakukan

- ✓ Perkenalkan hanya satu makanan pada satu masa. Sebagai contoh, mulakan dengan bubur nasi. Setelah si manja dapat membiasakan diri dengannya, perkenalkan makanan kedua daripada satu lagi kumpulan makanan.
- ✓ Tunggu selama 4 hari selepas memperkenalkan makanan baru; ini akan membantu menentukan sama anda si manja gemarkan makanan yang baru diperkenalkan dan membolehkannya membiasakan diri dengannya. Dalam masa 4 hari ini, anda juga boleh mengesan tanda alahan kepada makanan, jika ada.
- ✓ Mulakan dengan kuantiti yang sedikit. Tambah sedikit demi sedikit apabila usia bayi meningkat.
- ✓ Setelah si manja dapat membiasakan diri dengan pelbagai jenis makanan, anda bolehlah mencampurkan beberapa jenis makanan dalam satu hidangan, seperti bubur nasi dengan daging cincang dan puri sayur.
- ✓ Pastikan rasa dan tekstur makanan sesuai dengan tahap perkembangan si manja.
- ✓ Suap makanan sebaik sahaja si manja lapar, sebaik-baiknya sebelum anak anda meragam atau hilang selera makan.
- ✓ Bergantung pada keupayaan si manja, beri makanan yang boleh diambil sendiri atau air dalam cawan yang boleh dipegang.
- ✓ Elakkan benda yang boleh mengalih perhatian, seperti TV dan mainan, semasa makan supaya si manja boleh memberi tumpuan penuh dan menikmati makanannya.
- ✓ Makan bersama si manja. Anda boleh menggalakkan si manja untuk makan atau belajar menuapkan makanan sendiri.

Apa Yang TIDAK BOLEH Anda Lakukan

- ✗ Mencampurkan makanan yang berlainan jenis dalam satu masakan apabila mula memperkenalkan makanan pelengkap.
- ✗ Memberi makanan yang boleh menyebabkan si manja tercekit, seperti kacang dan bijian.
- ✗ Memaksa bayi makan atau memberi makanan secara berlebihan. Hentikan pemberian makanan apabila si manja memalingkan muka atau menunjukkan tanda tidak bermintat; dia mungkin sudahkenyang.

Complementary Feeding: What to Feed?

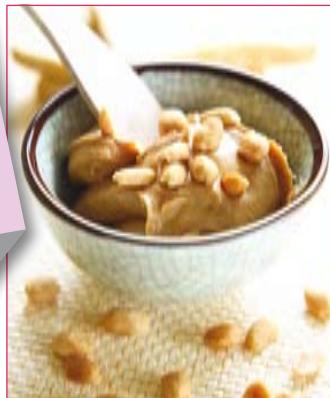

Complementary foods need to be appropriate to your baby's stage of development, and should consist of a mixture of foods that provide sufficient energy and nutrients. Below is a list of foods that you can introduce to your baby at different ages. The rule of thumb is to always start with cereal-based foods (e.g. start with rice for few weeks then followed by other cereals), followed by fruits and vegetables, and lastly meat group. Continue to breastfeed your baby as often as before, as mother's milk remains to be the most important food for baby.

Baby's Age	Grain group	Fruits	Vegetables	Meat and Alternative Group	Food Texture
6-8 months	Rice, barley, oat	Apple, banana, pear, prune	Green beans, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, tomato, carrots, peas	Chicken, tofu, fish	Liquid, pureed, blended, mashed
8-10 months	Rice, barley, oat, multigrain crackers	Apple, banana, pear, prune, papaya, grapes	Green beans, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, tomato, carrots, peas, cauliflower, broccoli, asparagus, French beans, long beans	Chicken, tofu, egg yolk, legumes, beef, pork, fish (e.g. tenggiri , kurau)	Minced, diced, finely chopped soft food
10-12 months	Rice, barley, oat, multigrain crackers, wheat cereals	Apple, banana, pear, prune, papaya, grapes, citrus, berries	Green beans, pumpkin, sweet potatoes, carrots, peas, cauliflower, broccoli, asparagus, corn, spinach, French beans, long beans	Chicken, tofu, whole egg (at 12 months), legumes, beef, pork, fish (e.g. salmon, red snapper)	Bite-sized pieces, small cubes/chunks of soft food

Tips:

The type of food texture to introduce to your baby also depends on his teeth development. For example, when your baby's teeth starts to grow, you can introduce finely chopped foods that your baby can chew. With more teeth arriving, you can slowly introduce diced and bite-sized foods into his diet.

Good to Know...

Certain foods may increase baby's risk of developing allergy if introduced too early. Avoid giving these foods before baby is 12 months old:

- Egg white
- Peanut butter and other peanut products
- Shellfish and certain types of fish, for example kembong, stingray and keli
- If baby is not breast fed, cow's milk should be introduced carefully as some children may have cow's milk intolerance

Makanan Pelengkap: Apa yang Patut Diberikan?

Makanan pelengkap perlu disesuaikan dengan tahap perkembangan bayi anda, dan sewajarnya mengandungi campuran makanan yang membekalkan tenaga dan nutrien yang secukupnya untuk si manja. Anda boleh memperkenalkan makanan yang disenaraikan di bawah mengikut peringkat usia yang berlainan. Paling penting, mulakan dengan makanan berasaskan bijirin (seperti bubur nasi selama beberapa minggu, diikuti dengan bijirin lain), disusuli buah-buahan dan sayur-sayuran, dan akhir sekali daging. Teruskan memberi susu ibu sekerap yang perlu, kerana susu ibu tetap merupakan makanan paling penting untuk si manja anda.

Usia Bayi	Kumpulan bijirin	Buah-buahan	Sayuran	Kumpulan Daging dan Alternatif	Tekstur Makanan
6-8 bulan	Beras, barli, oat	Epal, pisang, pear, prun	Kacang hijau, labu, keledek, tomato, lobak merah, kacang pis	Ayam, tauhu, ikan	Cair, puri, kisar, lenyek
8-10 bulan	Beras, barli, oat, biskut tawar pelbagai bijian	Epal, pisang, pear, prun, betik, anggur	Kacang hijau, labu, keledek, tomato, lobak merah, kacang pis, kubis bunga, brokoli, asparagus, kacang buncis, kacang panjang	Ayam, tauhu, kuning telur, kekacang, daging lembu, daging khinzir, ikan (seperti tenggiri, kurau)	Cincang, dadu, cincang halus, makanan lembut
10-12 bulan	Beras, barli, oat, biskut tawar pelbagai bijian, bijirin gandum	Epal, pisang, pear, prun, betik, anggur, buah-buahan sitrus, beri	Kacang hijau, labu, keledek, lobak merah, kacang pis, kubis bunga, brokoli, asparagus, jagung, bayam, kacang buncis, kacang panjang	Ayam, tauhu, seluruh telur (12 bulan), kekacang, daging lembu, daging khinzir, ikan (seperti salmon, ikan merah)	Potongan kecil, kiub kecil/ketulan makanan lembut

Petua:

Jenis tekstur makanan yang boleh diperkenalkan kepada bayi anda juga bergantung pada pertumbuhan giginya. Sebagai contoh, apabila gigi si manja mula tumbuh, anda boleh memperkenalkan makanan cincang yang boleh dikunyah oleh si manja. Apabila lebih banyak giginya tumbuh, tambahkan makanan potongan dadu dan cebisan kecil ke dalam dietnya.

Tahukah Anda...

Makanan tertentu boleh meningkatkan risiko si manja mendapat alahan jika diperkenalkan terlalu awal. Elakkan pemberian makanan berikut sebelum bayi mencapai usia 12 bulan:

- Putih telur
- Mentega kacang dan produk kacang yang lain
- Makanan bercengkerang dan beberapa jenis ikan tertentu, seperti ikan kembung, pari dan keli.
- Jika bayi anda tidak diberi susu ibu, susu lembu hendaklah diperkenalkan secara berhati-hati kerana sesetengah kanak-kanak mungkin alah kepada susu lembu.

Complementary Feeding: How Much to Feed?

Preparing and Cooking Your Baby's Food

Cooking for your baby is unlike cooking meals for the rest of your family members. You need to give more thought to the selection of food items to be given to your baby. More effort may need to be given to cooking and preparing the foods, as it usually involves pureeing, blending or mashing the food, before serving to your baby.

Although it may require more time and effort to prepare homemade meals for your baby, it is not a daunting process. More importantly, you are assured that baby is fed fresh and nutritious meals. Thus, follow the general guidelines and practical tips below to help you get started:

Ingredients

- Use fresh ingredients as much as possible; avoid using canned products as they may contain high amounts of salt.
- Do not add salt, sugar, salty sauces into baby's food, especially when he is below 1 year old.
- As baby grows older, you can start using natural herbs or spices to add extra flavours to his food. For example, you can add some finely chopped parsley into soup, basil into pasta, or cinnamon powder onto mashed pumpkin.
- Avoid giving egg white to your baby before he is 1 year old.
- You can try mixing food with breast milk to help baby accept new foods better and prepare more nutritious meal.

Cooking Style

- Avoid deep-frying foods. However, sautéing with a small amount of vegetable oil or pan frying is recommended as baby needs some amounts of fat in his diet.
- It is best to steam vegetables to retain their nutrients. Steamed vegetables can then be pureed and added into porridge.
- Soft fruits can be mashed using fork while the harder ones can be steamed first, then mashed or pureed.
- For soft-skinned fruits and vegetables, you can cook with their skin on to retain the nutrients.
- Meat, fish or poultry should be cooked thoroughly. Healthy ways of cooking these foods are either steaming, poaching or boiling. Roasting and grilling may also be used to prepare food for children over 2 years of age. DO NOT serve if meat is still pink in colour (i.e. meat is still raw).

Food Texture

- Serve foods with appropriate consistency or texture to make it easier for baby to accept and digest.
- Start with foods that are fine, smooth in texture and soft consistency (e.g. pureed or mashed), eventually moving on to foods with coarser textures (e.g. diced or chunky) as baby grows older.
- Avoid giving foods that may cause choking, such as seeds, grapes and raw vegetables.
- Avoid adding too much water to the food as it will dilute your child's meal. Instead, why not try adding breast milk, stock or a small amount of vegetable oil to give the food the desired consistency.

Menyedia dan Memasak Makanan untuk Bayi Anda

Time-saving tips

- Prepare more than you need and freeze extra portions in ice-cube trays or small jars. This way, you do not need to cook everyday.
- Foods should be thawed in the lower compartment of the refrigerator, not in the sink or by soaking in water.
- Prepare ingredients, such as stocks, in advance and freeze them. They can come in handy when you are short of time.

Food safety tips

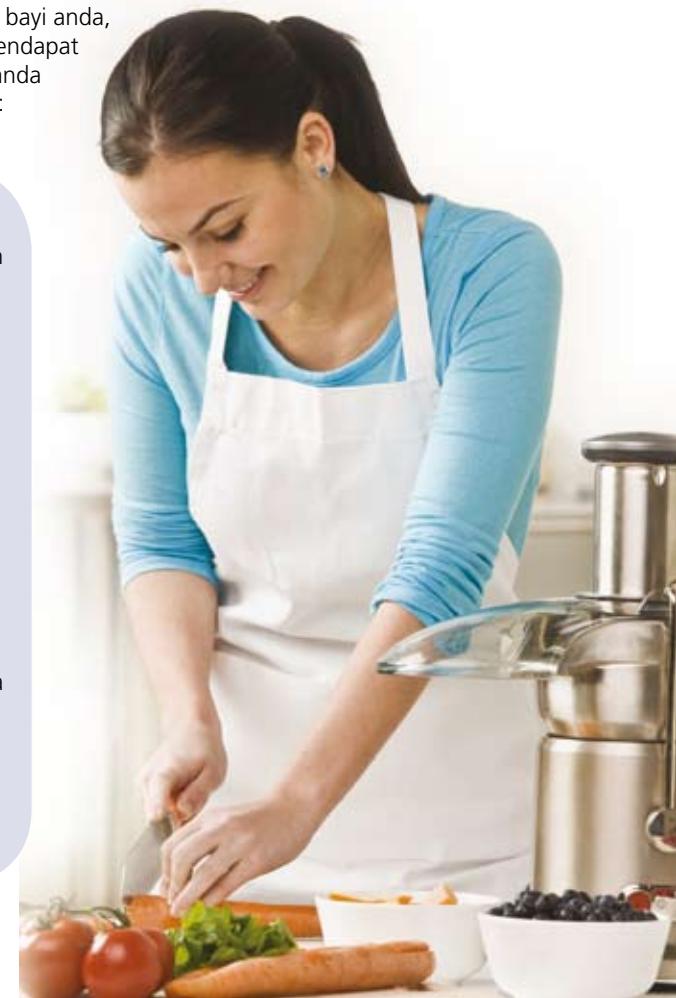

- Always practise good hygiene and proper food handling when preparing food.
- Always use clean utensils when feeding your child.
- Use utensils that are meant for cooking baby's food only (e.g. don't use the food blender for chillies to blend baby's food).
- Once a food is thawed, don't freeze again to avoid bacteria growth. It will also affect the food's texture, freshness as well as nutrient content.

Memasak makanan untuk bayi anda tidak sama dengan memasak makanan untuk anggota keluarga anda yang lain. Anda perlu memikirkan tentang pilihan makanan yang boleh diberikan kepada si manja. Anda perlu memberi lebih tumpuan kepada penyediaan makanan, kerana makanan untuk bayi biasanya perlu dimasak hingga menjadi lembut atau puri, dikisar atau dilenyek terlebih dahulu.

Meskipun anda perlu meluangkan lebih banyak masa dan berusaha untuk menyediakan sendiri makanan untuk bayi anda, tugas ini tidak rumit. Apa yang penting, bayi anda mendapat makanan segar dan berkhasiat. Sebagai permulaan, anda bolehlah merujuk garis panduan dan petua di bawah:

Ramuan

- Gunakan ramuan segar sebanyak yang mungkin, elakkan penggunaan bahan makanan dalam tin kerana kandungan garam yang biasanya tinggi.
- Jangan tambah garam, gula, kicap ke dalam makanan bayi, terutama sekali jika umur si manja di bawah 1 tahun.
- Apabila bayi anda bertambah besar, anda boleh mula menggunakan herba atau rempah asli untuk menambah perasa ke dalam makanannya. Sebagai contoh, anda boleh menambah sedikit daun bawang dan daun saderi yang dicincang halus ke dalam sup, daun selasih ke dalam pasta, atau serbuk kayu manis ke dalam labu lenyek.
- Elakkan pemberian putih telur sebelum si manja mencapai usia 1 tahun.
- Anda boleh mencampurkan makanan dengan susu ibu supaya si manja lebih bersedia menerima makanan baru. Penambahan susu ibu juga menjadikan makanan si manja lebih berkhasiat.

Cara Memasak

- Elakkan menggoreng makanan untuk bayi dalam minyak yang banyak. Bagaimanapun, anda boleh menumis dengan sedikit minyak sayuran atau menggoreng kering kerana si manja memerlukan sedikit lemak dalam dietnya.
- Sebaik-baiknya, kukus sayur untuk mengekalkan kandungan nutriennya. Sayuran yang dikukus kemudian boleh dijadikan puri dan masukkan ke dalam bubur.
- Buah-buahan lembut boleh dilenyek dengan menggunakan garpu manakala yang lebih keras boleh dikukus dahulu, kemudian dilenyek atau dijadikan puri.
- Anda boleh masak sayuran dan buah-buahan berkulit lembut dengan kulitnya sekali untuk mengekalkan nutrien.
- Daging, ikan atau ayam hendaklah dimasak dengan betul. Cara untuk memasak makanan ini dengan mengekalkan kandungan nutriennya ialah dengan mengukus, mereneh atau merebus. Untuk kanak-kanak berumur lebih 2 tahun, anda boleh membakar atau memanggang. JANGAN hidangkan jika warna daging masih merah jambu (ini bermakna daging masih mentah).

Tekstur Makanan

- Makanan lembut lebih memudahkan bayi menerima dan menghadamkannya.
- Mulakan dengan makanan yang mempunyai tekstur halus, licin dan lembut (seperti makanan yang dijadikan puri, dilenyek), kemudian beralih kepada makanan lebih kasar (seperti makanan yang dipotong dadu, berketul) apabila si manja semakin besar.
- Elakkan pemberian makanan yang boleh menyebabkan bayi tercekik, seperti bijian, anggur dan sayuran mentah.
- Elakkan menambah terlalu banyak air ke dalam makanan kerana air akan membuatkan makanan si manja berair. Sebaliknya, anda boleh cuba menambah susu ibu, stok daging dan sayuran atau sedikit minyak sayuran untuk mencapai kepekatan yang dikehendaki.

Petua menjimatkan masa

- Sediakan lebih daripada yang diperlukan dan sejuk bekukan bahagian lebihan dalam dulang kiub ais atau bekas kecil. Dengan cara ini, anda tidak perlu masak pada setiap hari.
- Makanan hendaklah dicair-beku di bahagian bawah peti sejuk, bukan di dalam singki atau dengan merendamnya dalam air.
- Sediakan ramuan seperti air rebusan lebih awal dan sejuk bekukan. Ia menyenangkan kerja bila anda kesuntukan masa.

Petua keselamatan makanan

- Sentiasa jaga kebersihan dan amalkan cara yang betul apabila mengendalikan dan menyediakan makanan.
- Sentiasa gunakan peralatan yang bersih apabila memberi si manja makan.
- Gunakan peralatan memasak yang dikhaskan untuk memasak makanan bayi sahaja (jangan guna mesin pengisar cili untuk mengisar makanan bayi).
- Sebaik sahaja makanan dicair beku, jangan sejuk bekukan sekali lagi untuk mengelakkan pertumbuhan bakteria. Tindakan ini juga akan menjadikan tekstur, kesegaran dan juga kandungan nutrien makanan.

Our body's Defense System and How to Keep it in Good Condition

Our human body is guarded from diseases like infections and cancer by the immune system, our natural defense power against disease. If you think of our body as a country, the immune system would be 2 teams of defense – one team would be the military (or army), and the other team would be the police.

The "Army"

The army and the police work together to maintain the safety of the country (our bodies). The army consists of immune cells we call T cells and B cells, and they make up the majority of about 80% of the immune system. The army normally is on standby mode and does not need to work, unless there is a serious invasion or attack on our body.

The "Police"

However, the police, on the other hand, are always active. They consist of "Natural Killer" cells (or NK cells) and make up 20% of the immune system. The NK cells continuously patrol throughout our whole body and kill virus-infected cells and cancer cells whenever they start to appear, thus effectively stopping them from growing and causing viral infections and cancer in our body.

As you can imagine, our bodies are invaded by viruses each day, as they enter our bodies from the external environment. Even from within our bodies, about 6,000 cancer cells are produced each day during normal body cell growth and replication. If not destroyed, these cancer cells will grow into tumours.

So, it is of key importance to our health that our immune system functions optimally at all times to minimize the risk of virus infections and cancer occurrence.

The "Police" are affected by our lifestyle

According to Dr Ko Okumura of Juntendo University, Japan, "While the power of the 'army' of T cells and B cells in our body usually remain constant throughout our lives, the activity level of the 'police' or NK cells have been found to be easily reduced by lifestyle factors such as stress, cigarette smoking, lack of exercise and aging^{2,3}. It has also been shown also that low levels of NK cell activity are associated with higher frequency of catching colds, longer time needed to recover from colds¹ and even a higher risk of getting cancer⁴."

Foods that can help keep the "Police" strong

"Several studies in animals and in also humans have shown that intake of probiotic or 'good' bacteria L. casei Shirota (also known as Shirota strain) in the form of cultured milk drinks can help increase NK cell activity^{5,6}. Studies also showed that vitamin C and beta-glucan extracts from shiitake mushroom were able to give similar effects too, but the dose required is much higher than would usually be consumed in the daily diets," explained Dr Okumura further.

"The immune boosting effects of Yakult can be seen with intake of 40 billion live Shirota strain per day, taken over a three week period. This is equivalent to one to two bottles of Yakult cultured milk per day," he said.

A Balanced lifestyle helps Keep our Defenses Healthy

It is known that lifestyle factors such as stress, smoking and bad eating habits can reduce the activity of the NK cells. Studies conducted by Dr Okumura have shown that drinking Yakult helps to recover NK cells activity that has been reduced, for example in those facing mental stress, heavy smokers and the elderly⁷.

On a final note, Dr Okumura emphasized that the best and most important factor for keeping our defenses strong is still maintaining a healthy lifestyle with regular exercise and good eating habits.

On top of that, they also recommend consuming a bottle or two of Yakult cultured milk containing the Shirota strain daily to keep our "police" defense in tip-top condition, thus keeping diseases at bay.

Toddler's Tiny Bites
Makanan untuk Anak Kecil

Toddler's Nutritional Needs

As your child grows into a toddler (2-4 years old), not only does he get more physically active each day, his mind is also actively exploring, understanding and learning about the world around him. This process of growth and development continues well into his preschool years (4-6 years old).

During this period of time, known as the formative years, your child needs optimal nutrition to support the processes mentioned above. His nutritional needs increase as he grows taller and gains more weight. He also needs more energy to keep him active. With a bigger tummy now, your child can take in more food than before.

Therefore, it is vital that you continue to feed your child with varied and well-balanced meals and in amounts as recommended by the Malaysian Food Pyramid (see page 67). This is also a good time to encourage your young child to eat together as a family. Not only can introduce family foods into his diet, it is also a great opportunity for your little one to bond with the family.

Essential Nutrients for Your Growing Child

While a toddler or preschooler doesn't grow as rapidly as in his first year, nutrition remains a top priority. His overall nutrient requirements increase in general. Those that are shown on this page are particularly important for mums to take note of.

Energy

(baby: 639 kcal; toddler: 980kcal; preschooler: 1340 kcal)

Your toddler or preschooler is more active now. His daily energy needs double compared to the amount required as a baby.

Do: Increase amounts of rice, bread, cereals and grain products in his daily diet.

Protein

(baby: 12 g; toddler: 17 g; preschooler: 23 g)

Compared with the daily needs of a baby, protein requirement in toddlers increases by about 50% and doubles when they enter preschool. The extra proteins are needed to build more muscles and tissues, to give your child more strength as he becomes increasingly active.

Do: Increase amounts of fish and meat and start introducing other meat alternatives such as legumes, accordingly.

Fats

On a per kilogram body weight basis, young children need more fat than adults. Fats serve as one of the sources of energy for your little one as his tummy is still small to take in large amounts of food. Fats also provide essential fatty acids that help in brain development.

Do: Prepare food using healthy fats, such as plant-based oils. Low-fat foods and diet are not appropriate for a growing child.

Calcium

(baby: 400 mg; toddler: 500 mg; preschooler: 600 mg)

Your child's bones grow so that he becomes taller. Therefore, he needs adequate amount of calcium to support his growth in height and strengthen his bones.

Do: Fulfil his calcium needs through giving an additional glass of milk and other dairy products.

Folate

(baby: 80 µg; toddler: 160 µg; preschooler: 200 µg)

Folate (or folic acid), or vitamin B9, is essential for growth and division of cells, thus supporting your child's growth.

Do: Provide more green-leafy vegetables and folate-fortified products, such as cereals and bread.

Keperluan Pemakanan Anak Kecil

Apabila si kecil anda semakin membesar dan mula berjalan dan berlari (2-4 tahun), dia bukan sahaja bertambah aktif setiap hari, malah membuka mindanya untuk meneroka, memahami dan mempelajari tentang dunia di sekelilingnya. Proses pertumbuhan dan perkembangan ini berterusan sehingga dia memasuki prasekolah (4-6 tahun).

Sepanjang tempoh yang dikenali sebagai fasa pertumbuhan ini, si kecil memerlukan pemakanan yang optimum untuk menyokong proses pertumbuhan dan perkembangannya. Keperluan pemakanannya bertambah apabila ketinggian dan berat badannya bertambah. Si kecil juga memerlukan lebih banyak tenaga untuk membolehkannya terus aktif. Si kecil juga sekarang boleh mengambil lebih makanan daripada sebelumnya kerana badannya dan perutnya juga semakin membesar.

Oleh itu, adalah penting untuk anda terus memberikan sajian makanan yang bukan sahaja pelbagai dan seimbang, tetapi juga dalam jumlah yang disarankan oleh Piramid Makanan Malaysia (lihat muka sebelah). Ini juga adalah masa yang baik untuk menggalakkan anak kecil anda makan bersama keluarga. Anda bukan sahaja boleh memperkenalkan makanan keluarga ke dalam dietnya, tetapi juga memberi peluang kepada si kecil untuk merapatkan hubungan dengan seisi keluarga.

Nutrien Penting untuk Si Kecil Anda Yang Sedang Membesar

Meskipun kanak-kanak dalam lingkungan usia ini tidak membesar secepat tahun pertama, pemakanannya tetap menjadi keutamaan, malah keperluan pemakanan mereka secara keseluruhannya bertambah. Para ibu patut memberi tumpuan kepada keperluan berikut:

Tenaga

(bayi: 639 kcal; 2-4 tahun: 980kcal; 4-6 tahun: 1340 kcal)

Kanak-kanak yang baru pandai berjalan dan berlari atau dalam usia prasekolah adalah lebih aktif. Keperluan tenaga harian mereka berganda berbanding jumlah yang diperlukan semasa bayi.

Petua: Tambah jumlah nasi, roti, bijirin dan produk bijian dalam dietnya setiap hari.

Protein

(bayi: 12 g; 2-4 tahun: 17 g; 4-6 tahun: 23 g)

Berbanding dengan keperluan hariannya semasa bayi, keperluan protein kanak-kanak berusia 2-4 tahun bertambah kira-kira 50% dan berganda apabila mereka memasuki usia prasekolah. Lebih banyak protein diperlukan untuk membina lebih banyak otot dan tisu, yang diperlukan untuk memberi lebih kekuatan apabila mereka bertambah aktif.

Petua: Tambah jumlah ikan, daging dan mula perkenalkan alternatif daging seperti kekacang dengan sewajarnya.

Lemak

Berasaskan berat badan sekilogram, kanak-kanak kecil memerlukan lebih banyak lemak daripada orang dewasa. Lemak berfungsi sebagai satu daripada sumber tenaga untuk si kecil kerana perutnya masih kecil untuk menerima lebih banyak makanan. Lemak juga membekalkan asid lemak penting yang membantu perkembangan otak.

Petua: Berikan lemak yang sihat, seperti minyak sayuran. Makanan rendah lemak tidak sesuai untuk kanak-kanak yang sedang membesar.

Kalsium

(bayi: 400 mg; 2-4 tahun: 500 mg; 4-6 tahun: 600 mg)

Tulang si kecil perlu membesar dengan baik supaya dia menjadi lebih tinggi. Oleh itu, mereka memerlukan jumlah kalsium yang secukupnya untuk menyokong tumbesaran, khususnya dari segi ketinggian dan untuk menguatkan tulang.

Perkara yang patut dilakukan: Penuhi keperluan kalsiumnya dengan memberikan tambahan susu dan produk tenusu yang lain.

Folat

(bayi: 80 µg; 2-4 tahun: 160 µg; 4-6 tahun: 200 µg)

Folat (atau asid folik), atau vitamin B9, penting untuk pertumbuhan dan pembahagian sel dalam menyokong tumbesaran si kecil.

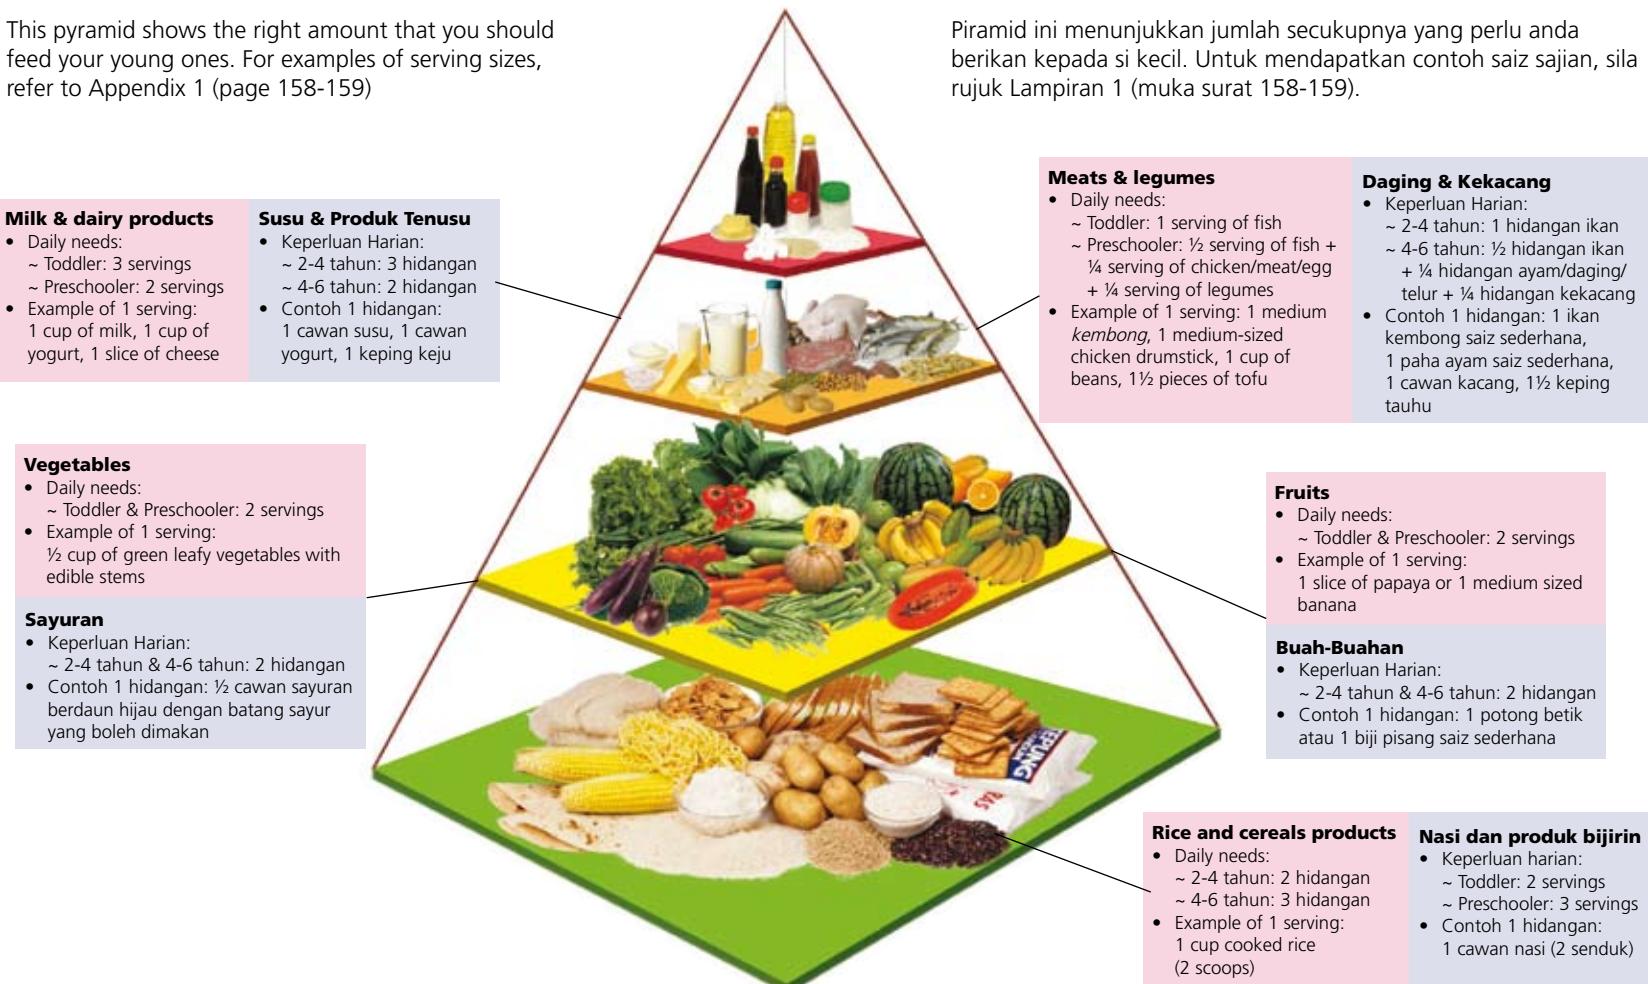

Petua: Berikan lebih banyak sayuran berdaun hijau dan produk yang diperkaya dengan folat, seperti bijirin dan roti.

How Much Does Your Child Need?

Berapa Banyak Makanan yang Diperlukan Anak Kecil Anda?

This pyramid shows the right amount that you should feed your young ones. For examples of serving sizes, refer to Appendix 1 (page 158-159)

Malaysian Food Pyramid / Piramid Makanan Malaysia

Balancing Food Amounts in Your Toddler's Regular Meals

You don't have to feed your toddler everything in one meal. The best way to achieve a well-balanced diet according to the pyramid is to offer your child regular meals: 3 main meals and 2 snacks.

Example of meal distribution and serving sizes for each meal:

Breakfast	Lunch / Dinner Serve at each meal:	Snack (mid-morning / afternoon) Serve at each snack time:	Total amount of foods served per day:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 1-2 bread with egg• 1 cup of milk/chocolate milk/malt drinks	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• ½ - ¾ cup of cooked rice/pasta/noodles• ½ medium size ikan kembong• 2 tablespoons of cooked green leafy vegetable (¼ cup)• 2 tablespoons of cooked carrot/tomato• 1 small slice of papaya• Water	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 1 cup of milk/milkshake• 1 slice of fruit (e.g. banana)• 1 small size banana/apple/pear• 1 sandwich	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 2 servings of cereals or cereal products• 2 servings of vegetable• 2 servings of fruits• ½ - 1 serving of meat and alternatives• 3 servings of milk

7 Healthy Feeding Tips for Your Active Child!

Practise these 7 steps to ensure your child's needs are met.

- 1 Provide your child a balanced mix of foods from each food group in the Food Pyramid to reap the benefits of various nutrients.
- 2 Give your child a variety of foods from each food group, for example, if you serve him fish for lunch, serve chicken for dinner.
- 3 Too little or too much intake of nutrients can cause health problems. So serve your child moderately according to the amount recommended in the Food Pyramid.
- 4 Avoid having your toddler skip meals. He needs to eat regular meals to fuel his body throughout the day.
- 5 Healthy snacks keep your child happy and active between mealtimes, but do not give snacks 2 hours before a main meal to avoid spoiling his appetite.
- 6 Milk is a good food for people of all ages. Continue to feed your child milk and dairy products every day.
- 7 Your child needs a small amount of fat for energy as well as his growth and development. Use fat and oil sensibly when preparing meals for your child and family.

Mengimbangkan Jumlah Makanan dalam Sajian Harian Anak Kecil Anda

Anda tidak perlu menggabungkan segala-galanya dalam satu hidangan untuk si kecil anda yang berusia 2-4 tahun. Cara terbaik untuk menjamin diet yang seimbang menurut piramid ialah dengan menyediakan makanan dengan tetap setiap kali waktu makan: 3 sajian utama dan 2 sajian snek.

Contoh sajian dan saiz hidangan untuk setiap kali makan:

Sarapan	Makan Tengah Hari / Malam Diberikan setiap waktu makan:	Snek (lewat pagi / petang) Diberikan setiap waktu snek:	Jumlah makanan yang diberikan setiap hari:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 1-2 roti dengan telur• 1 cawan susu/susu coklat/ minuman malt	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• $\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{3}{4}$ cawan nasi/pasta/mi• $\frac{1}{2}$ ikan kembong saiz sederhana• 2 sudu makan sayuran berdaun hijau dimasak ($\frac{1}{4}$ cawan)• 2 sudu makan lobak merah/tomato• 1 potong kecil betik• Air	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 1 cawan susu/susu kocak• 1 potong kecil buah (seperti pisang)• 1 biji pisang/epal/pir saiz sederhana• 1 sandwic	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 2 sajian bijirin atau produk bijirin• 2 sajian sayuran• 2 sajian buah-buahan• $\frac{1}{2}$ - 1 sajian daging dan alternatif• 3 sajian susu

Petua Menyediakan Makanan Sihat untuk Si Kecil Yang Aktif!

Amalkan 7 langkah ini untuk memastikan si kecil mendapat segala keperluannya.

- 1 Sediakan campuran makanan yang seimbang daripada setiap kumpulan makanan dalam Piramid Makanan untuk memastikan si kecil mendapat pelbagai nutrien yang diperlukan.
- 2 Berikan si kecil pelbagai makanan daripada setiap kumpulan, contohnya, jika anda menyediakan ikan untuk makan tengah hari, hidangkan ayam untuk makan malam.
- 3 Pengambilan terlalu banyak atau terlalu sedikit nutrien boleh menimbulkan masalah kesihatan. Jadi, berikan makanan secara sederhana menurut jumlah yang disyorkan dalam Piramid Makanan.
- 4 Pastikan si kecil yang berusia 2-4 tahun makan setiap kali tiba waktu makan.
Dia memerlukan tenaga untuk pergerakan badannya sepanjang hari.
- 5 Snek sihat memastikan si kecil anda riang dan aktif antara waktu makan, tetapi jangan beri snek 2 jam sebelum waktu makan agar tidak menjelaskan seleranya.
- 6 Susu adalah makanan yang baik untuk semua, tanpa mengira umur.
Teruskan memberi si kecil susu dan produk tenusu setiap hari.
- 7 Si kecil memerlukan sedikit lemak untuk membekalkan tenaga dan juga untuk pertumbuhan dan perkembangannya. Gunakan lemak dan minyak dengan sewajarnya apabila menyediakan sajian makanan untuk si kecil dan keluarga anda.

Feeding Frustrations?

Feeding toddlers can be challenging for some parents. Below are some common feeding concerns and tips to help chase your worries away.

"My child eats too little. He never finishes his food."

There are different reasons for this. Your toddler may have a small appetite, or he is too distracted to eat (e.g. by TV, radio, family activities).

- ✓ To help your child focus on his food, feed him away from distractions, or serve food that can be eaten quickly and easily.
- ✓ If your child is not finishing what you serve, try offering smaller portions.
- ✓ Offer a variety of healthy nutrient-dense foods at every meal, including snacks, so that your child gets the nutrition he needs, even though he eats only a little.
- ✓ Make sure meals are given at least 2–3 hours apart.

"My child only eats certain types of food and refuses others."

This is quite common in toddlers as they develop preferences, becoming picky over food choices and avoiding vegetables.

- ✓ Get your child excited about different types of food. Try taking him to the supermarket and allow him to select some foods. He will be more likely to eat the foods he chose himself.
- ✓ If your child constantly refuses a particular food, try to serve it in a different form or when he is really hungry, or offer another food from the same food group.

"My child doesn't seem to enjoy eating."

This usually happens among children who are forced to eat alone while the rest of the family is doing something else.

- ✓ Help your child to enjoy mealtimes by eating together. Try to eat with him at least once a day.
- ✓ Make mealtimes enjoyable for your child, such as serving foods in fun shapes, or letting him use his own colourful cutlery.

Should I offer supplements to my child?

Giving your little ones dietary supplements is not the best way to fulfil his daily nutrient needs. If your child dislikes certain foods, you can always offer substitutes from the same food group. For example, if he doesn't like spinach, offer kangkung; if he refuses chicken, serve fish. In addition, many foods today are fortified with essential vitamins and minerals, such as fortified cereals, bread and milk. As long as you continue to incorporate a variety of foods into your toddler's daily diet, he will get sufficient nutrients to meet his body's demand.

Waktu Makan yang Mengecewakan?

Kerena anak-anak kecil boleh menyukarkan ibu bapa untuk memastikan si manja mereka mendapat makanan yang berkhasiat dan seimbang. Beberapa masalah di bawah dan jawapan yang diberikan boleh membantu menangani kebimbangan anda.

"Anak saya makan terlalu sedikit. Dia tidak pernah menghabiskan makanannya."

Terdapat banyak faktor yang boleh menjadi penyebab. Si kecil anda mungkin mempunyai selera yang kecil, atau perhatiannya terganggu dengan perkara lain sewaktu makan (seperti TV, radio, aktiviti keluarga).

- ✓ Untuk membantu si kecil anda memberi tumpuan semasa makan, jauhkan dia daripada gangguan, atau hidangkan makanan yang boleh dimakan dengan cepat dan senang.
- ✓ Jika si kecil anda tidak dapat menghabiskan makanan yang disediakan, cuba kurangkan kuantitinya.
- ✓ Hidangkan pelbagai makanan yang sihat dan kaya dengan nutrien setiap kali tiba waktu makan, termasuk snek, supaya si kecil mendapat segala nutrien yang diperlukan, walaupun dia hanya mengambil dalam kuantiti yang kecil.
- ✓ Pastikan makanan diberikan sekurang-kurangnya dalam selang 2–3 jam.

"Anak saya hanya makan makanan tertentu dan enggan makan makanan lain."

Perkara ini merupakan masalah biasa apabila kanak-kanak mula menggemari makanan tertentu sahaja, menjadi lebih cerewet dalam pemilihan makanan dan cuba mengelakkan pengambilan sayur-sayuran.

- ✓ Anda boleh membuat si kecil teruja

"Anak saya nampaknya tidak seronok makan."

Ini selalunya berlaku dalam kalangan kanak-kanak yang dipaksa makan sendirian sedangkan keluarga yang lain sibuk dengan urusan lain.

- ✓ Bantu si kecil anda merasai keseronokan waktu makan dengan makan bersama-dengan pelbagai jenis makanan yang berlainan. Cuba bawa anak anda ke pasar raya dan beri dia peluang untuk memilih makanan. Besar kemungkinan dia akan makan makanan yang dipilihnya.

- ✓ Jika si kecil tetap tidak mahu makan makanan tertentu, cuba hidangkan dalam bentuk yang berlainan dan menarik, hidangkan makanan ketika dia betul-betul lapar, atau gantikan dengan makanan lain daripada kumpulan makanan yang sama.

sama keluarga. Cuba makan bersama dengan si kecil sekurang-kurangnya sekali sehari.

- ✓ Jadikan waktu makan masa yang menyeronokkan bagi si kecil, dengan menghidangkan makanan dalam bentuk yang menarik, atau menggalakkan si kecil menggunakan sudu dan garpu sendiri yang beraneka corak dan warna.

Perlukah saya beri si kecil makanan/suplemen tambahan?

Memberi makanan tambahan kepada anak-anak kecil bukan cara terbaik untuk memenuhi keperluan nutrien harian mereka. Jika si kecil anda tidak suka makanan tertentu, anda boleh menggantikannya dengan makanan daripada kumpulan yang sama. Contohnya, jika si kecil tidak gemar bayam, anda boleh menggantikannya dengan kangkung; jika dia enggan makan ayam, hidangkan ikan. Selain itu, terdapat banyak produk makanan kini diperkaya dengan vitamin dan zat galian, seperti bijirin, roti dan susu. Selagi mana anda menyediakan makanan yang seimbang untuk dietnya, si kecil akan mendapat nutrien yang cukup untuk memenuhi keperluan badannya.

Cooking for Your Toddler

Toddlers are at an age for exploration, and that includes trying new foods, new taste and new texture. Serve food that you would eat yourself, food that is healthy, tasty and creatively presented!

Healthy Ingredients

- Limit santan and use milk instead for your curry dishes.
- Enhance the flavours of your dishes with herbs (e.g. garlic, lemon grass, rosemary, basil) and spices (e.g. cinnamon, turmeric) instead of using oil, sugar, salt and artificial flavouring.
- Make every meal healthier by adding lots of vegetables. If your child refuses vegetables, try chopping them into smaller pieces and sneak them into his favourite meals.

Palatable Presentation

- Have at least one dish that has soft texture, has gravy or is soupy.
- Foods should be made less spicy for your toddler.
- Serve dishes in fun and attractive presentations to make them appetising.

Time-saving

- You don't have to cook the dishes separately. You can cook the same meals for the family and your toddlers, but set aside a portion for your child before adding chillies or pepper.

Safe to Eat

- Remove bones from chicken/meat/fish before serving.
- Cut meat or vegetables into bite-sized pieces to avoid choking.
- Avoid feeding your child raw eggs and unpasteurised milk to avoid risk of food poisoning.
- Always ensure meat, poultry and fish are thoroughly cooked before serving.

Memasak untuk Anak Kecil Anda

Anak-anak kecil gemar meneroka keadaan di sekeliling, termasuk mencuba makanan baru, rasa baru dan tekstur baru. Hidangkan makanan yang anda juga boleh menikmatinya, iaitu makanan yang berkhasiat, sedap dan disediakan dengan kreatif!

Ramuan yang Berkhasiat

- Kurangkan santan dan gantikan dengan susu untuk masakan kari.
- Untuk menambah kelazatan masakan anda, gunakan herba (seperti halia, serai, daun limau purut, selasih) dan rempah-ratus (seperti kayu manis, kunyit) untuk menggantikan minyak, gula, garam dan perasa tiruan.
- Jadikan setiap masakan anda lebih seimbang dengan menambahkan sayur-sayuran. Jika si manja anda enggan memakan sayur, cincang sayur dan masukkan ke dalam makanan kegemarannya.

Hidangan yang Membuka Selera

- Sediakan sekurang-kurangnya satu hidangan yang mempunyai tekstur lembut, berkuah atau bersup.
- Masakan untuk anak-anak kecil perlulah kurang pedas.
- Hidangkan makanan dalam bentuk dan gaya yang menarik untuk menjadikannya lebih menyelerakan.

Menjimatkan Masa

- Anda tidak perlu menyediakan masakan yang berasingan untuk si manja. Anda boleh masak hidangan yang sama untuk keluarga dan si manja, tetapi ketepikan sebahagian untuk si manja sebelum menambah cili atau rempah ke dalam masakan selebihnya.

Selamat untuk Dimakan

- Buang tulang daripada ayam/daging/ikan sebelum dihidangkan.
- Sediakan daging atau sayuran dalam potongan kecil supaya si manja tidak tercekik.
- Jangan beri telur mentah dan susu tidak berpasteur kepada anak kecil anda untuk mengelakkan risiko keracunan makanan.
- Sentiasa pastikan daging, ayam dan ikan dimasak hingga betul-betul masak sebelum dihidangkan.

- Remember to use different foods within each food group and from each level of the Food Pyramid.
- Plan different styles of dishes using different cooking methods.
- On your busy days, it is okay to have a mix of home-cooked and takeaway foods. Just make sure the taste and texture of the ready-cooked foods are appropriate for your toddler.
- Keep snack choices healthy to avoid unwanted fat and calories from creeping into your child's diet.

Petua untuk diingati!

- Jika boleh, rancang masakan yang digemari oleh si manja dan anggota keluarga anda yang lain, supaya anda sekeluarga dapat menikmati makanan bersama.
- Jangan lupa untuk memasak makanan yang berbeza dalam setiap kumpulan makanan dan dari setiap aras Piramid Makanan.
- Rancang cara masakan yang berlainan.
- Pada hari yang sibuk, anda boleh menggabungkan masakan rumah dengan makanan yang dibeli dari luar. Anda hanya perlu memastikan rasa dan tekstur makanan yang dibeli sesuai untuk si manja anda.
- Pilih snek yang berkhasiat untuk mengelakkan lemak, garam dan kalori berlebihan dalam diet si manja.

BIOFACTORS SYSTEM

The Right Nutrition for the Right Age

Children's nutritional needs vary according to their stages of development. Many developmental processes – including the eye, mind, growth, development and learning, occur in children and their body systems between the ages of one to seven years.

The Biofactors System™, is a comprehensive system designed to provide the right nutrition for the right age. It provides a unique combination of nutrients that is important for the overall growth and development of a child.

During the first two years of childhood, a child's brain undergoes a period that healthy eating habits and a balanced diet is necessary in order for your child to achieve their growth and learning developmental milestones in their growing-up years.

The growth rates for ages one to seven, and seven to 10 years are rapid, thus necessitating greater energy needs. However, it is vital to realise that more is not necessarily better. No nutrient on its own, can deliver on the promise of superior mental and physical development. It takes the right combination of nutrients, all delivered in the right proportions, to support eye, mind, growth, development and learning.

An appropriate level of AA and DHA is important for optimal benefits to support mind and overall development. But what is the important difference between DHA found in the Biofactors System™ and the conventional fish oil supplements in the market today?

Traditionally, certain types of fish have been used for fortifying formulas and adult supplements, but the decline in world fisheries has resulted to growing concerns about oceanic contaminants in some fish species. As such, a search for alternative sources of DHA was launched and studies showed among the viable ingredient sources of DHA is oil derived from single-cell organisms (SCO). This single cell oil, also known as algal-oil DHA, is a healthier alternative to dietary fish for DHA delivery.¹

The Biofactors System™ has appropriate ratio of AA and DHA which uses single cell organism (SCO) source. SCO source of AA and DHA are more consistent, pure and safe than sources such as fish oil.²

A child's learning phase is also shaped through his experience, and it is here that vision plays a very important role. Lutein, found in the Biofactors System™ is able to filter blue light and may protect your child's eyes. This helps your child's eyes development from an early age. Wyeth is the pioneer to introduce lutein in its growing up milk formula for children: S-26 Progress Gold and S-26 Promise Gold. Lutein in the Biofactors System™ is naturally extracted from marigold flowers.

Balanced nutrition will also create the platform to support learning milestones, a strong body and mind, fine motor skills, self-control and attention span.

All of these skills are absolutely essential to preparing your child for the challenges through their journey of life, which is enhanced by holistic eye, mind, growth, development and learning.

So help your child 'Be Life Ready' with Biofactors System™. Available exclusively in S-26 Progress Gold and S-26 Promise Gold by Wyeth.

LUTEIN

Playing a BIG Role in your Children's Life

Children see the beauty of the world through their eyes, from the moment they wake up to the moment they go to sleep. Eyes are the window to your child's mind – they take in tons of information about the world around them – shapes, colours, movements and more. A good eye and mind health aids better learning.

Blue Light is Harmful to our Eyes

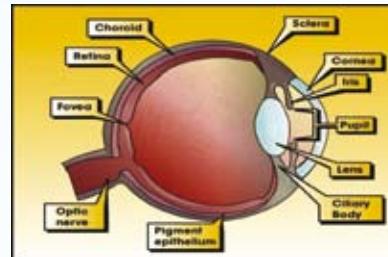

We mentioned that our children learn through vision, but do you know that light can harm the retina? The damage depends on the wavelength, intensity and duration of the light. The more our children are exposed to the environment, the more they are also being exposed to high energy blue light, present in sun light.

Blue light rays, the short wavelengths of the light spectrum, is the highest energy form of visible light. Light in the range of wavelengths between 700 nm (red) and 400 nm (blue), can pass through the cornea and lens and reach the retina efficiently. Intense and longer-term exposure to red light can produce thermal lesions on the retina, which are characterized by a rise in the temperature of the tissue. Same duration of exposure as in the case of red light, blue light at approximately 1/100 the intensity of red light can produce photochemical lesions on the retina without raising the temperature of the tissue.

In short, blue light is the most damaging wavelength to reach retina, and especially harmful to young children's eyes because their eyes continue to develop during the first seven years. Long-term exposure to blue light can have effect to the macula, the most sensitive region of the retina at the back of the eye. According to Professor BR Hammond, from Vision Sciences Laboratory, University of Georgia, USA, damage to the macula leads to blindness.

Lutein Filters Blue Light, Protecting our Eyes

The macula contains a pigment called lutein, which has the important property of filtering blue light. Research indicates that lutein, as the predominant pigment in the retina is able to protect the eye by acting as a filter to this kind of light.

According to Prof. BR Hammond, antioxidant protection of the eye is important in children since they cannot efficiently down-regulate blood flow in the retina as adults. Therefore, these vessels deliver excess oxygen to the retina and increases free radicals in the eye. He adds that lutein, as an antioxidant, protects the retina from these oxidative damages. In short, lutein is a major component of the visual system and is important for visual performance.¹

The Latest Innovation in Toddler's Nutrition

Lutein is available to our children only in dietary sources, as our bodies cannot synthesize lutein. Rich dietary sources of lutein are vegetables such as kale, spinach, peas and broccoli, and animal fats.

Biofactors System™, a unique age-appropriate nutrition system, is fortified with Lutein, which is able to filter blue light and may protect your child's eyes. Lutein is sourced from marigold flowers. Wyeth is the pioneer to incorporate lutein in its range of milk formulas: S-26 Progress Gold and S-26 Promise Gold.

Biofactors System™ represents benefits of balanced nutrition, creating the platform to support learning milestones, development of strong mind and body, fine motor skills, self-control and attention span. All of these skills are absolutely essential in preparing your child's eye, mind, growth, development and learning for the challenges through their journey of life. Support your child to reach his or her full potential today.

The right nutrition for the right age

MY HEALTHY CHILD

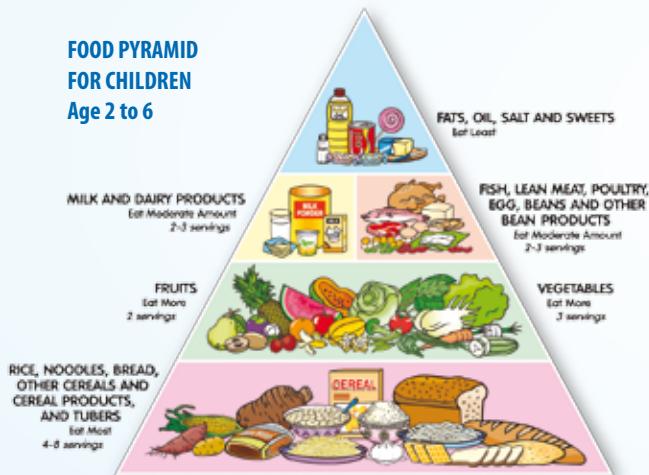

Being healthy is not just about how rarely a child falls sick. It is also about whether your child is growing in terms of height and weight that are proper for her age. A healthy child also develops according to appropriate developmental milestones, which are a set of functional skills or age-specific tasks that most children can perform within a certain age range.

The formative years (ages 2 to 6) are the right time to give your child a head-start in health and physical growth. Doing so during this crucial period not only sets the foundation for a lifetime of good health, but also allows her to grow to her full potential.

Keeping Tabs & Promoting Health

Here are ways to find out whether your child is growing healthily, and to ensure she stays healthy.

- ✓ Measure her height and weight and calculate her Body Mass Index (BMI) every six months.
- ✓ Bring your child for regular medical and dental check-ups.
- ✓ Monitor her bouts of infections e.g. coughs, colds and diarrhoea.
- ✓ Ensure your child (and family members) adheres to high personal hygiene standards.

Feeding Her Healthy

To optimise your child's growth and health, you also need to nourish her well. If your child doesn't obtain essential nutrients from the various types of food in the appropriate or required amounts, she can be vulnerable to malnutrition. Even mild malnutrition can affect her growth, development and health. Good nutrition also enables your child's immune system to develop, mature and function optimally.

Good nutrition means your child has different foods everyday that provide a balanced mix of nutrients (e.g. carbohydrates, protein, fats, vitamins and minerals). She must also eat regular meals in sufficient quantities to meet her daily nutritional needs.

Feed your child a diet that conforms to the Malaysian Food Pyramid for Children. It provides a guide to which types and amounts of food she needs to consume daily, and which food groups should be consumed more, or less, than others. The Pyramid also features different foods in every group, so your child can get a variety of nutrients.

Your child's daily diet should also include milk. Milk is a wonderful source of bone-building calcium, power-packed protein and healthful vitamins and minerals. Fortified milks may contain essential fatty acids (e.g. DHA, AA), beneficial antioxidants (e.g. lutein) and nucleotides that further promote good health. So make sure she drinks 1-2 cups of milk everyday, not only for its creamy goodness, but all its added nutritional benefits.

Eye-Opening Fact!

Falling sick is a natural part of life because your child is constantly being attacked by viruses, bacteria and parasites. This is especially so when she starts preschool and becomes more exposed to common infections e.g. colds and coughs. Infections, however, are in a way necessary, as they allow her immune system to build up antibodies and resistance to better handle future infections.

"EAT WELL, LIVE WELL."

AJINOMOTO® celebrated its 100th anniversary in year 2009. Professor Kikunae Ikeda, who discovered Monosodium Glutamate (MSG), had a well-defined philosophy: "by improving the taste of a plain food, one can improve digestion, thus enhancing the nutritional status".

The Ajinomoto Group applied Professor Ikeda's philosophy and continues to follow his mission by reaffirming the true value of deliciousness. Delicious foods are meant more than just to satisfy our taste buds, they also help to improve nutrient intake for a healthy life.

A new word for an old taste... Umami

The flavour of food is determined by various factors including taste, smell, colour, temperature and overall appearance, as well as by physiological or psychological conditions. Some of the most important factors are the basic "tastes" of sweet, sour, salty, bitter and umami.

Umami, the fifth basic taste, is an integral part of cuisine around the world. For example, the fish sauces of Southeast Asia, the bouillon of Europe, the "dashi" of Japan and the shrimp paste (belacan) of Malaysia. Dishes as diverse as Italy's lasagna and China's braised mushrooms in oyster sauce have umami in common.

Just over a century ago, a Japanese scientist, Professor Kikunae Ikeda, began research to ascertain the true nature of "deliciousness". He discovered that glutamate – an amino acid – was responsible for the taste in "dashi", the Japanese soup stock made from konbu (a type of seaweed). He coined the term umami to describe this taste in 1908. Although there is no English word for it, umami is the "savoury" or "broth-like" taste imparted by glutamate in meat, fish, vegetables and dairy products.

With the discovery of umami, Professor Ikeda tried to develop a new flavouring substance based on glutamate, compatible with the natural taste of foods. He found that Monosodium Glutamate (MSG) was an ideal flavour enhancer because it produced a strong umami taste, was readily soluble in water, had high stability, absorbed no humidity and can be applied to a variety of foods.

MSG under the brand name of AJINOMOTO® was first marketed in Japan in 1909. The raw materials used for the production of AJINOMOTO® come from natural sources such as sugar cane, tapioca, sago, etc. It is produced through a fermentation process similar to that used to produce soy sauce, vinegar, fermented rice, yoghurt, etc.

Umami is more than just taste

Glutamate, which is the source of the umami taste and the key component of AJINOMOTO®, not only enhances the taste of food but also brings benefits to us both nutritionally and physiologically.

As we grow older, the chances are, most of us are not consuming enough nutrients. The older we get, our sense of

Glutamate

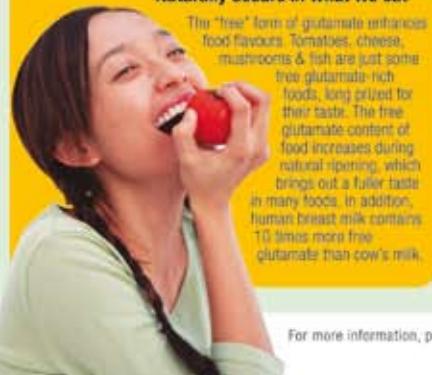

A natural part of our metabolism

Glutamate, the umami substance, is found in "free" and "bound" forms. The latter term means that the glutamate is linked with other amino acids in protein. Amino acids are the building blocks of protein, which is an important component of muscle and other tissues.

Your body also produces 40-50 grams of glutamate daily. This substance is vital for normal metabolism. The muscles, brain and other organs and tissues contain 1.5-2.0 kilograms of glutamate, mainly in bound form.

Naturally occurs in what we eat

The "free" form of glutamate enhances food flavours. Tomatoes, cheese, mushrooms & fish are just some free glutamate-rich foods, long prized for their taste. The free glutamate content of food increases during natural ripening, which brings out a fuller taste in many foods. In addition, human breast milk contains 10 times more free glutamate than cow's milk.

taste and smell deteriorate, as a result, food begins to taste bland, thus affecting the level of food and nutrient intake. Enhancing foods with Monosodium Glutamate (AJINOMOTO®), which is the umami seasoning, can make them more delicious and appetising, and encourages adequate dietary intake amongst the elderly.

Tapping into this need for "deliciousness", parents can apply umami to dishes that children may not otherwise eat particularly for nutritious food which children normally associate with tastelessness.

In addition, glutamate also contributes to our overall health. Salty foods appeal to most of us because of their flavour, but it is generally recognised that a high-sodium diet can contribute to the risk of hypertension (high blood pressure) and other health problems.

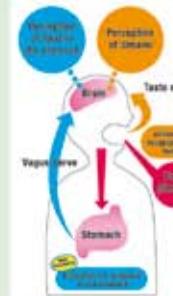

AJINOMOTO® contains about 1/3 the amount of sodium of table salt. Although glutamate is not salty itself, by using a small amount of AJINOMOTO®, sodium intake can be reduced by as much as 30% while maintaining food palatability.

The new role of the umami substance... glutamate

Our sense of taste plays the role of signalling our bodies which foods are good for us and which are harmful. Sweetness indicates energy-giving carbohydrates; bitterness alerts us to toxins; saltiness is a sign that our bodies need minerals; and sourness signals foods that have been degraded or taste of ripe fruits.

Umami signals the presence of protein in food, which is essential to human beings and all living things.

On the surface of our tongues are nodules and some of these nodules are called taste buds. Taste receptors on these taste buds help the body to recognise the various tastes of sweet, sour, salty, bitter and umami.

Recent research has discovered that there are umami/glutamate receptors not only on the tongue but also in the stomach. When food enters the stomach and glutamate receptors detect the presence of glutamate, this information is relayed to the brain and an order is sent from the brain to the stomach to prepare for digestion of food.

Good digestion promotes better absorption and adequate nutrient intake subsequently helps in maintaining good health.

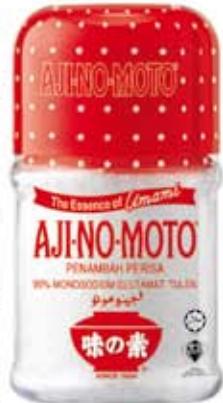

Thus, glutamate does not only produce deliciousness through the umami taste but also has a significant role to play in human nutritional physiology. Advanced scientific technology today has proven the hypothesis of Professor Kikunae Ikeda from 100 years ago: "by improving the taste of a plain food with umami, one can improve digestion and thus enhance the nutritional status".

Today, the AJINOMOTO® Group continues to follow Professor Ikeda's philosophy which aims to create better lives globally by contributing to significant advances in food and health, and by working for life.

Feeding Small Tummy
Mengisi Perut Si Kecil

Smart Nutrition for Preschoolers (4-6 years old)

Preschool years are very exciting times for your child! He goes to kindergarten and starts to explore the world beyond his home. His nutrient requirements also increase at this stage. To ensure your child can keep up with his "packed itinerary", continue to provide him with complete and balanced nutrition.

Is Your Preschooler Getting Enough?

Ensuring her child grows and develops well will always be a mum's concern. That includes boosting his learning abilities, especially now that he goes to kindergarten. This also means strengthening his immune system to protect him from infections while he is interacting with other children and playing outdoors.

To ensure your preschooler gets the energy he needs to sustain his activities and nutrients to support his development, you can refer to Chapter 2, where you learn how to feed your child well-balanced and varied meals in amounts recommended by the Malaysian Food Pyramid.

You also want to pay attention to the following additional needs of your preschooler:

More energy, please!

Your preschooler's energy requirement has increased from 980 kcal per day (toddler) to 1,340 kcal per day now. To fulfil this additional energy need is easy. Just add 1 serving of cereal or cereal products and $\frac{1}{2}$ serving of meat or its alternatives to your child's daily diet.

Don't stop giving milk

You may notice that your child doesn't ask for as much milk as before. This is normal; but do ensure that he continues to consume 2 servings of milk or dairy products daily (which is one serving less than what he needed as a toddler).

Here's a sample of serving sizes for main meals and healthy snacks to give your preschooler.

Breakfast	Lunch / Dinner Serve at each meal:	Snack (mid-morning / afternoon) Serve at each snack time:	Total amount of foods served per day:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 2 slices white/ wholemeal bread with egg	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• $\frac{3}{4}$ cup ($1\frac{1}{2}$ scoops) of cooked rice• $\frac{1}{2}$ medium size ikan kembong• 2 tablespoons of cooked green leafy vegetable ($\frac{1}{4}$ cup)• 2 tablespoon of cooked carrot/tomato/cauliflower• Water	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 1 cup of milk/2 slices of cheese• 1 medium size of banana/apple/pear• 3 pieces of crackers	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• 3 servings of cereals or cereal products• 2 servings of vegetable• 2 servings of fruits• $\frac{1}{2}$ serving of fish + $\frac{1}{4}$ serving of chicken/meat/egg + $\frac{1}{4}$ serving of legumes• 2 servings of milk

Good nutrition benefits your child in many ways:

- Allows your preschooler to achieve optimal growth.
- Contributes to a strong immune system.
- Fuels his little brain to enhance attention span and encourage better learning.
- Performs daily activities with more energy and enthusiasm.

Pemakanan Bijak untuk Si Kecil Prasekolah (4-6 tahun)

Usia prasekolah adalah zaman yang menyeronokkan bagi anak-anak anda! Si kecil mula menjelajakan kakinya di tadika dan melihat dunia di luar rumahnya. Keperluan nutrien mereka juga meningkat pada peringkat ini. Pastikan anda memberikan pemakanan yang seimbang dan lengkap supaya si kecil dapat melakukan aktiviti harian dengan penuh bertenaga.

Adakah Si Kecil Mendapat Cukup Makanan?

Sesiapa sahaja yang bergelar ibu sentiasa memastikan anak-anak mereka membesar dengan sihat. Setiap ibu ingin melihat anak mereka cerdik belajar, dari saat dia memasuki tadika. Hal ini juga bermakna mereka memerlukan sistem imun yang kuat untuk melindungi mereka daripada jangkitan penyakit apabila mereka bercampur-gaul dan bermain dengan kanak-kanak lain di luar rumah.

Bagi memastikan si manja mendapat tenaga yang diperlukan untuk melakukan aktiviti dan nutrien untuk menyokong pertumbuhan dan perkembangannya, anda boleh merujuk Bab 2, dan belajar cara menyediakan sajian masakan yang pelbagai dan seimbang dalam jumlah yang disarankan oleh Piramid Makanan Malaysia.

Anda juga seharusnya memberi perhatian kepada keperluan tambahan si manja yang baru memasuki alam tadika:

Si Kecil Memerlukan Lebih Tenaga!

Keperluan tenaga si manja anda kini meningkat daripada 980 kcal sehari sewaktu dia baru pandai berjalan dan berlari (2-4 tahun) kepada 1,340 kcal sehari. Tidak susah untuk menampung keperluan tenaga tambahan ini. Anda hanya perlu tambah 1 hidangan bijirin atau produk bijirin dan $\frac{1}{2}$ hidangan daging atau alternatifnya ke dalam diet si kecil.

Jangan Hentikan Susu

Anda tentu sedar anak anda tidak meminta susu sekerap dahulu. Hal ini adalah perkembangan biasa, tetapi pastikan si manja mengambil 2 gelas susu segar atau produk tenusu setiap hari (iaitu satu gelas kurang daripada yang diperlukan semasa baru berjalan dan berlari).

Walaupun sudah memasuki usia prasekolah, si manja perlu mengambil sedikit makanan tetapi secara kerap – 3 sajian utama ditambah 2 snek yang berkhasiat antara waktu makan, untuk membolehkannya terus aktif sepanjang hari.

Berikut adalah contoh saiz hidangan untuk sajian utama dan snek yang berkhasiat untuk diberikan kepada si manja dalam usia prasekolah.

Sarapan	Makan Tengah hari / Malam Dihidangkan pada setiap waktu makan:	Snek (lewat pagi / petang) Dihidangkan pada setiap waktu snek:	Jumlah makanan diberikan dalam sehari:
• 2 keping roti putih/mil penuh dengan telur	• $\frac{3}{4}$ cawan (1½ senduk) nasi • $\frac{1}{2}$ ekor ikan kembung saiz sederhana • 2 sudu besar sayuran berdaun hijau yang dimasak ($\frac{1}{4}$ cawan) • 2 sudu besar lobak merah/tomato/kobis bunga yang dimasak • Air	• 1 cawan susu/2 keping keju • 1 biji pisang/epal/pir saiz sederhana • 3 keping biskut tawar	• 3 hidangan bijirin atau produk bijirin • 2 hidangan sayuran • 2 hidangan buah-buahan • $\frac{1}{2}$ hidangan ikan + $\frac{1}{4}$ hidangan ayam/daging/telur + $\frac{1}{4}$ hidangan kekacang • 2 hidangan susu

Pemakanan yang baik memberi banyak manfaat kepada si manja:

- Membolehkan si manja mencapai pertumbuhan optimum.
- Membantu menguatkan sistem imun.
- Memperkasakan otak kecilnya untuk memberi tumpuan dan menggalakkan pembelajaran.
- Membolehkan si manja melakukan aktiviti harian dengan lebih bersemangat dan bertenaga.

Smart Snacking

Although your preschooler now eats more than when he was a toddler, his stomach has limited capacity. He may only be able to take in small servings of food, and therefore tends to get hungry between meals. Snacks keep your child's little tummy filled, ward off his hunger pangs, and provide him with the energy to carry on his activities.

Snacking rules!

- Always offer your child healthy snacks from the five food groups to provide him with necessary nutrients. Healthy snack options include: egg sandwiches, steamed apam, pau, yoghurt, popiah basah, fresh fruits, milk, cheeses, plain biscuits, carrot sticks and cereals.
- To avoid affecting your child's appetite, offer healthy snacks in small portion and don't offer snacks too close to mealtimes, i.e. no snacks within 2 hours of main meals.
- Never replace main meals with snacks.
- Avoid giving unhealthy snacks, such as sweets, fried crisps (e.g. keropok/kerepek), chips, sweet cookies and chocolates as they are usually high in sugar, fat and sodium, and have little to no nutritional value.

If you want to shape healthy snacking habits in your child, this is the best time to start!

Tips for Mums!

Boring snacks can be transformed into interesting bites by just making some adjustments before cooking or serving, such as:

- Use a cookie cutter to cut dough into interesting shapes (e.g. heart, star, animals) before baking. You can also use cookie cutters to cut fun shapes for sandwiches.
- Scoop out fruits such as watermelon or honeydew into balls, and put them onto a satay stick to make fruit kebabs.

Pilih Snek Dengan Bijak

Meskipun si kecil kini makan lebih banyak daripada sewaktu usianya 2-4 tahun, muatan perutnya masih terhad. Si kecil hanya boleh mengambil hidangan yang kecil, dan ini menyebabkan dia cepat lapar antara waktu makan. Pengambilan snek akan memastikan perut kecilnya sentiasa terisi, menghindarkan kelaparan, dan membekalkan tenaga yang diperlukan untuk melakukan aktiviti harian.

Peraturan mengediakan snek!

- Pilih snek yang berkhasiat untuk si kecil, sebaik-baiknya daripada lima kumpulan makanan untuk membekalkan nutrien yang diperlukan. Contoh snek yang berkhasiat termasuk sandwic telur, apam kukus, pau, yogurt, popiah basah, buah-buahan segar, susu, keju, biskut tawar, potongan lobak merah dan bijirin.
- Untuk tidak merosakkan selera makan si kecil, beri snek yang berkhasiat dalam hidangan yang kecil dan jangan beri snek terlalu hampir dengan waktu makan, iaitu dalam masa dua jam sebelum waktu makan.
- Jangan sesekali menggantikan sajian makanan utama dengan snek.
- Elakkan pemberian snek yang tidak berkhasiat, seperti gula-gula, keropok atau kerepek goreng, kentang goreng, biskut manis dan coklat kerana ia bukan sahaja kurang berkhasiat tetapi juga mempunyai kandungan gula, lemak dan natrium yang biasanya tinggi.

Jika anda ingin memupuk tabiat makan snek yang berkhasiat dalam kalangan anak anda, inilah masa yang terbaik untuk memulakannya!

Let's Talk Nutrition

It is never too early to talk about nutrition with your child. Teaching your child about good nutrition can be as simple as telling your child about the healthful benefits of various foods, for example, by saying "Carrots are good for your eyes!", or "Milk helps make your bones stronger!" Do this whenever a meal or snack is served.

You can also bring your child along for grocery shopping, showing him picture books with fruits and vegetables, or letting him help out with simple kitchen chores. The purpose is to expose your child to a wide range of foods, and cultivate his love for healthy foods.

The extra perks for mums? When your preschooler is interested in healthy foods, he is more likely to clear his plate and be less picky over his meals!

Tips for Mums!

Wait! Don't forget to help your child form good eating habits too. For stress-free and enjoyable mealtimes, teach your child to:

- Always wash hands before eating, and not to eat food that has been left on the table uncovered.
- Stop eating when feel full.
- Take only necessary amount of foods and finish all of them.
- Stay seated when having meals; don't run around or go under the dining table or behind the chair.
- Be a responsible kid, e.g. put plates in the sink after finish eating.

Most importantly, set a good example for your kids by practising what you teach.

Jom Berbicara Tentang Pemakanan

Adalah tidak terlalu awal untuk membincangkan tentang pemakanan dengan si kecil anda. Mengajar si kecil tentang pemakanan yang baik adalah semudah memberitahunya tentang manfaat pelbagai makanan kepada kesihatan. Sebagai contoh, anda boleh katakan "lobak merah baik untuk mata", atau "susu membantu menjadikan tulang lebih kuat!" setiap kali anda menghidangkan makanan atau snek.

Anda boleh membawa si kecil bersama apabila keluar untuk membeli bahan untuk memasak dan barang keperluan dapur, menunjukkan kepadanya buku dengan gambar buah-buahan dan sayuran, atau mengajak si kecil membantu anda membuat kerja mudah di dapur. Tujuannya ialah untuk mendedahkan si kecil kepada pelbagai jenis makanan dan menyemaikan minat terhadap makanan yang berkhasiat.

Petua Untuk Ibu!

Tunggu! Jangan lupa untuk membantu si manja membentuk tabiat makan yang sihat. Perkara yang perlu dilakukan untuk memastikan masa makan adalah menyeronokkan dan tidak memberikan tekanan, ajar si manja anda untuk:

- Sentiasa membasuh tangan sebelum makan, dan tidak makan makanan yang dibiarkan tidak bertutup di atas meja.
- Berhenti makan apabila rasa kenyang.
- Ambil sejumlah makanan yang perlu sahaja dan menghabiskan kesemuanya.
- Duduk apabila makan; jangan berlari-lari atau menyorok bawah meja atau di belakang kerusi.
- Menjadi kanak-kanak yang bertanggungjawab, seperti meletakkan pinggang dalam sinki selepas habis makan.

Paling penting sekali, sebagai ibu bapa, anda perlulah menunjukkan teladan yang baik kepada anak-anak dengan melakukan dahulu perkara yang anda ajarkan kepada mereka.

Hasilnya untuk ibu?

Apabila si kecil dalam usia prasekolah menunjukkan minat terhadap makanan yang berkhasiat, besar kemungkinan dia akan menghabiskan makanan dalam pinggannya dan kurang cerewet memilih makanan!

Young children love to play masak-masak! It may not be safe to involve your child in the kitchen when he was a toddler. But now, your preschooler is capable enough to help out with some simple tasks in the kitchen.

Letting your child involve in preparing meals for the family is one way to get him excited over his foods and enjoy eating them. During the process, your child also learns to turn fresh foods into healthy dishes. So why not try out together with your child some of the simple recipes in this book, such as Cheesy Chicken Bruschetta, Beef Patties and Cheese Ring Biscuits. Not only is it fun, it is also an opportunity to strengthen the bond between you and your child.

Let's Masak-Masak

Get Started With...

Let's go shopping!

The supermarket is a great classroom to educate your child about nutrition. Here's what you can do:

- Tell your child the nutritional values of different foods, e.g. which foods are beneficial, which should be eaten less, etc.
- Let him participate by allowing him to select some of the foods items, e.g. what he likes to have for that day, under your guidance.

Mum, can I help you?

Allow your child to help out with these age-appropriate tasks in the kitchen:

- Getting ingredients from the refrigerator.
- Washing fruits with brushes.
- Tearing vegetables into pieces.
- Making fun shapes (e.g. animal, stars) of cookies or bread using cookie cutters.
- Putting dough into pans.
- Pouring water from pitchers.
- Spreading foods with spatulas (e.g. spreading tuna filling on bread).
- Stir together dry ingredients.
- Mashing foods, and peeling eggs, oranges or corn.
- Measuring ingredients (e.g. flour).
- Cutting soft food (using plastic knife/cutlery).

Mind These Matters...

Safety first

Make kitchen a safe place for your little one to prevent unnecessary kitchen mishaps.

- Never let your child cook alone. Always supervise what he is doing.
- Keep your child away from the stove.
- Make sure the kitchen floor is dry to prevent slipping. Clean up spills, if any, immediately.
- Turn pot handles on the stove away from grabbing hands.
- Ensure your child doesn't reach for hot surfaces.
- Keep knives, peelers and other sharp objects stored away safely.
- Don't let your child run about in the kitchen, especially when the floor is wet.

Hygiene in the kitchen

Good hygiene in the kitchen is vital to ensure food is safe for consumption. Encourage your child to practise these in the kitchen:

- Wash hands with soap before preparing food.
- Ensure fingernails are trimmed and clean.
- Do not taste food using bare hands during preparation.
- Do not handle foods with bare hands if there is a wound, unless the wound is properly bandaged.
- Do not sneeze or cough over the food. Cover sneezes or coughs with hands, wash hands before continue to handle the food.
- Do not play with hair or nose while preparing food. Wash hands after touching them.

Jom Masak-Masak

Si kecil gemar bermain masak-masak! Mungkin tidak selamat untuk melibatkan si kecil dalam kerja dapur apabila dia baru pandai berjalan dan berlari. Tetapi kini, dalam usia prasekolah, si kecil boleh membantu ibu di dapur.

Menggalakkan si kecil membantu menyediakan makanan untuk keluarga adalah satu cara yang dapat menarik minatnya terhadap makanan dan menikmati kelazatan makanan. Dalam proses ini, si kecil juga dapat belajar menjadikan makanan segar sebagai sajian yang berkhasiat. Anda boleh mencuba beberapa resipi mudah dalam buku ini bersama si kecil, seperti Bruschetta Ayam Berkeju, Begedil Daging dan Biskut Cincin Keju. Ia bukan sahaja menyeronokkan, tetapi juga memberi peluang kepada anda untuk mengeratkan hubungan dengan si kecil anda.

Mulakan Dengan...

Mari kita pergi beli barang dapur!

Kedai runcit atau pasar raya adalah ibarat bilik darjah yang boleh mendidik si kecil tentang makanan. Anda boleh:

- Memberitahu si kecil tentang nilai atau khasiat makanan yang berlainan, seperti jenis makanan yang baik dan berkhasiat, dan jenis makanan yang patut dikurangkan, dan sebagainya.
- Membiarkan si kecil memilih sendiri bahan makanan seperti makanan yang ingin makan pada hari itu, dengan tunjuk ajar daripada anda.

Ibu, boleh saya bantu?

Ajak si kecil membantu kerja-kerja yang sesuai dengan umurnya di dapur:

- Mengambil ramuan dari peti sejuk.
- Membasuh buah-buahan dengan berus.
- Mengoyakkan sayuran kepada cebisan kecil.
- Membuat bentuk biskut atau roti yang digemari (seperti bentuk haiwan, bintang) menggunakan pemotong atau acuan biskut.
- Menyusun doh dalam dulang pembakar.
- Menuang air dari dalam jug.
- Meratakan makanan dengan spatula (seperti menyapu tuna ke atas roti).
- Menggaul ramuan kering.
- Melenyek makanan, dan mengupas telur, oren atau jagung.
- Menyukat ramuan (seperti tepung).
- Memotong makanan lembut (menggunakan pisau/sudu garpu plastik).

Pentingkan Perkara Ini...

Keselamatan diutamakan

Jadikan dapur tempat yang selamat untuk si kecil bagi mengelakkan kejadian yang tidak diingini.

- Jangan sesekali membiarkan anak anda memasak seorang diri. Sentiasa selia apa yang dilakukan.
- Jauhkan si kecil dari api dapur dan kawasan memasak yang panas.
- Pastikan lantai dapur sentiasa kering untuk mengelakkan si kecil tergelincir. Bersihkan sebarang tumpahan dengan serta-merta.
- Pusingkan tangkai periuk atau kuali daripada arah yang boleh dicapai dengan tangan.
- Pastikan si kecil tidak menyentuh permukaan yang panas.
- Simpan pisau, pengupas dan objek lain yang tajam di tempat yang selamat.
- Jangan benarkan anak-anak kecil berlari-lari di dapur, terutama sekali apabila lantai basah.

Kebersihan di dapur

Menjaga kebersihan di dapur adalah sangat penting untuk memastikan makanan selamat untuk dimakan. Galakkan si kecil anda mengamalkan perkara ini di dapur:

- Membasuh tangan dengan sabun sebelum menyediakan makanan.
- Memastikan kuku dipotong pendek dan bersih.
- Tidak menjamah makanan menggunakan tangan semasa menyediakan makanan.
- Tidak mengendalikan makanan dengan tangan jika terdapat luka pada tangan, melainkan jika luka tersebut telah dibalut dengan baik.
- Tidak bersin atau batuk ke dalam makanan. Tutup hidung dan mulut dengan tangan apabila batuk atau bersin, dan basuh tangan sebelum meneruskan kerja penyediaan makanan.
- Tidak bermain dengan rambut atau hidung semasa menyediakan makanan. Basuh tangan selepas menyentuh rambut atau hidung dengan sabun.

Meal Planning for Your Preschooler

Pelan Hidangan untuk Si Kecil Prasekolah Anda

Planning your preschooler's meals ahead of time is the best way to ensure he is provided with proper nutrition all the time. And it gives you control of what he eats. Here's a simple 2-day meal planner (for weekend and weekday) to help you get started.

Example of a 2-day meal planner for preschoolers / Contoh pelan sajian makan untuk si kecil prasekolah

Weekends / Hujung Minggu	Weekdays / Hari Minggu
Breakfast / Sarapan Chicken Cheesy Bruschetta* Bruschetta Ayam Berkeju* Morning Snack / Snek Pagi Apple + Milk / Epal + Susu Segar Lunch / Makan Tengahari Rice + Black Pepper Beef* + Loofah Sponge Gourd with Fuchok* + Water Nasi + Daging Masak Lada Hitam* + Sayur Petola bersama Fucuk* + Air 	Afternoon Snack / Snek Petang Banana Cream Puff* Puf Pisang Berkrim Kastard* Dinner / Makan Malam Spicy Roasted Chicken* + Mashed Potato + Water / Ayam Panggang Berempah* + Kentang Putar + Air Breakfast / Sarapan Egg Frittata with Spinach* + Papaya Frittata Telur bersama Bayam* + Betik Morning Snack / Snek Pagi Egg Sandwich + Milk Sandwich Telur + Susu Segar Lunch / Makan Tengahari Claypot Chicken Rice* + Fruit Juice Nasi Ayam Periuk Tanah* + Jus Buah-buahan

What does your child eat in his kindergarten?

You can still have some control of what your preschooler eats when he is in the kindergarten.

- Talk to your child's teacher to find out what your child has been eating or whether he eats at all.
- If your child doesn't like foods served in the kindergarten, prepare a snack box so his teacher can serve it during break time.
- Your child may get sweaty and dehydrated after playing with his friends. So, don't forget to provide a bottle of plain water for him to bring to class.

Merancang lebih awal sajian untuk si kecil dalam usia prasekolah adalah cara terbaik untuk memastikan anak anda mendapat pemakanan yang baik sepanjang masa. Hal ini juga membolehkan anda mengawal makanan yang dimakannya. Berikut adalah contoh pelan sajian untuk 2 hari (untuk hujung minggu dan hari persekolahan) yang mudah bagi membantu anda mula membuat perancangan anda sendiri.

Apa yang anak anda makan di tadika?

Anda masih boleh mengawal makanan yang dimakan oleh anak anda apabila dia ke tadika.

- Tanya gurunya untuk mengetahui hidangan yang dimakan oleh si kecil anda atau sama ada dia makan makanan yang disediakan oleh tadika.
- Jika anak anda tidak suka makanan yang disediakan di tadika, bekalkan snek supaya boleh dihidangkan oleh gurunya pada waktu rehat.
- Si kecil anda mungkin berpeluh dan kehausan selepas bermain dengan kawan-kawan. Jadi, jangan lupa untuk membekalkan sebotol air masak untuk dibawa ke dalam kelas.

Amalan Sihat, Membesar dengan Baik Bersama MAGGI®

Pemakanan yang baik dan tabiat makan yang sihat adalah komponen penting dalam kesihatan anak anda. Dengan memberikan makanan yang betul dalam kuantiti yang betul, anda dapat memastikan mereka memperoleh khasiat yang optimum untuk membesar dan berkembang dengan baik secara fizikal dan mental. Amalan ini dapat melindungi mereka daripada masalah berlebihan atau kekurangan nutrien. Jadi, utamakan kesihatan, makan secara sihat serta pastikan anak anda membesar dengan baik.

Asas Pemakanan yang Baik

Anak anda mempunyai banyak keperluan dan memerlukan pelbagai jenis nutrien. Cara terbaik untuk memenuhi keperluan pemakanan adalah dengan memberikan diet seimbang yang terdiri daripada pelbagai jenis makanan dalam kuantiti sederhana setiap hari. Piramid Makanan Malaysia adalah rujukan mudah untuk merancang penyediaan makanan anak anda. Anak anda perlu makan makanan daripada setiap aras dalam jumlah tertentu seperti yang disarankan dalam Piramid. Makanan yang paling banyak dimakan setiap hari seharusnya daripada aras bawah Piramid dan paling sedikit daripada bahagian teratas Piramid.

Mencapai Keseimbangan, Kesederhanaan dan Kepelbagaian

Menyediakan diet yang pelbagai dan seimbang dalam kuantiti yang betul akan memberi anak anda nutrien penting yang diperlukan untuk menjalani aktiviti harian. Berikut merupakan cara anda boleh mencapai keseimbangan, kesederhanaan dan kepelbagaian berdasarkan Piramid Makanan Malaysia.

• Seimbang

Diet anak anda perlu terdiri daripada kombinasi bijirin dan produk bijirin, buah-buahan dan sayuran, ikan, ayam, daging atau telur dan susu serta produk tenusu. Gunakan Piramid sebagai rujukan untuk memastikan anak anda mendapat kuantiti yang betul daripada setiap kumpulan makanan.

• Sederhana

Keperluan pemakanan anak anda akan meningkat apabila dia membesar. Makan terlalu banyak atau terlalu sedikit boleh mengakibatkan masalah kesihatan. Oleh itu, patuhil bilangan sajian yang disarankan untuk setiap kumpulan makanan di dalam Piramid. Ini akan memastikan anak anda mendapat jumlah tenaga dan nutrien yang betul setiap hari.

• Pelbagai

Pilih pelbagai makanan daripada setiap kumpulan makanan kerana makanan berlainan memberikan kombinasi tenaga dan nutrien berbeza. Anda boleh memenuhi keperluan ini dengan memberi pelbagai makanan dalam warna, perisa, tekstur dan aroma berbeza, seperti yang dicadangkan Piramid Makanan. Kepelbagaian makanan juga mengelakkan anak anda daripada bosan makan.
